JERUSALEM BATTLE IN FINAL STAGE

VITAL OREGON VOTE DECISION COMES TODAY

May Slow Up Either Dewey or Stassen; Taft Goes Into New Jersey.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 21—Oregon voters may flash a "slow" signal today on the presidential hopes of either Harold E. Stassen or Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

While the two major contenders for the Republican nomination are battling it out on the Pacific Coast, a third, Senator Robert A. Taft, will be invading New Jersey territory where Dewey and Stassen have been claiming support.

It is Taft day at Princeton, where Stassen visited last month. Dewey also has been invited to drop in for a chat with the New Jersey delegation before the Philadelphia convention opens just one month hence.

Important Test

The outcome of Oregon's primary vote today was generally regarded here as likely to be heavily damaging politcially to the loser. The winner gets the support of the state's 12 delegates. But a lot more is involved in this last contested balloting before the convention.

Most politicians look at it this way:

If Dewey wins, he will go a long way toward wiping out the defeats he suffered at Stassen's hands in Wisconsin and Nebraska. He will be reinstated as a top notch contender.

If he loses, the New York governor will have little claim left to being the No. 1 candidate for the nomination. He still will have 134 delegates lined up in his corner, but he may find his secondary backing melting away rapidly.

If Stassen wins, he will have a string of three popular primary victories—plus a write-in victory in Pennsylvania—to back his contention that he is the popular choice of the rank and file. He will have a powerful weapon for touching off a convention blitz like the one that gave the late Wendell L. Willkie the 1940 nomination.

Stassen Situation

If Stassen loses, his foes will say that the Minnesotan's only real popular appeal is in the Middle West, which the Republicans generally chalk up in their column anyway. His loss to Dewey in New Hampshire and his failure to get a majority of the 23 delegates in his contest with Taft in Ohio will be cited in his connection.

Stassen has 76 convention votes either pledged or claimed without dispute. He has been claiming that he will have more than any other candidate on the first ballot. But few think that claim would survive an Oregon defeat.

Taft planned to speak in Princeton on military training.

The Ohioan will outline his views on foreign policy in a speech at Bard college, Annandale-on-Hudson, N. Y., tomorrow night.

Taft expects to share in the support when Utah Republicans pick 11 delegates at a state convention tomorrow. Dewey and Stassen already have laid their lines in the state.

New Citizens Told Meaning Of Obligation As Kiwanians Mark "I Am an American Day"

What it means to become an American citizen and the obligations to be fulfilled by those who are American citizens, either by birth or adoption, was interpreted by a man who himself became a citizen of the United States more than a quarter of a century ago when the Marion Kiwanis club observed, "I Am An American Day," yesterday. The occasion was the weekly luncheon meeting of the club and speaker was Max Birnbaum, a member of the club and also of the club's citizenship committee. "I Am An American Day" was observed throughout the country May 16.

In observance of the day the club had as guests Mrs. Richard Cheney, native of Canada, who became a citizen of the United States yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Galyk, natives of Poland, who received their final citizenship papers a year ago, and Bernard Bailes from the United States department of justice, division of immigration and naturalization.

Mrs. Cheney of 251 Cummin avenue was admitted to citizenship yesterday by Judge Paul D. Smith in common pleas court at a naturalization hearing. Mrs. Cheney, a native of Belleville, Ontario, Canada, has lived here since 1941. Mr. Bailes conducted the examination of prospective citizens before Judge Smith. Two other petitions for citizenship were denied.

Pride in Citizenship

Expressing pride in being an American citizen Mr. Birnbaum said the American by adoption has no apology to offer for his record. More than forty million people came from all over the world and, with the exception of a few individuals, all helped to build the greatest country in the world. "We owe no apology," he added." We did our part. In peace time we dug in the mines, built railroads, and made our contribution to art and music; in war we gave our blood, bought bonds and some of us paid the highest price."

A better understanding among nations and peoples and a return to religion and a closer relationship to God was his answer to the question of what will bring world peace. Voicing his disappointment that three years after the close of hostilities in World War II peace had not been gained, said that prejudice is now greater than at any time in history, not only in the rank and file but in governments. He praised the work being done by churches, ministers and church people and added that a good Christian is a good citizen. It is as necessary as seeing ones family physician, that we belong to church to keep spiritually strong and healthy, he added. As American citizens he urged the recognition only of Americanism in government, the curbing of war agitators, preparation for any national emergency both financially and militarily and the protection of our Constitution and freedom.

Remarks To New Citizens

To the new citizens Mr. Birnbaum said: "When you became a citizen you raised your hand to protect and uphold the Constitution; remember you received one of the greatest privileges a human being can receive; never miss an opportunity to vote as you see fit and as your conscience dictates; should you be called to duty, do it and if you have any relatives or friends who are not citizens, help them to become citizens."

Mr. Bailes complimented Mrs. Cheney and others in the class in prefacing his talk explaining briefly the process of becoming a citizen. Applicants are screened carefully before they are granted permission to enter the United States and the process is repeated by the immigration service upon their arrival to determine their ability to become good citizens and maintain themselves, he said. The annual quota is a little

TWO MOVIE WRITERS SENTENCED, FINED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 21—Movie Writers John Howard Lawson and Dalton Trumbo were each sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000 today for contempt of congress.

Federal District Judge David A. Pine sentenced Trumbo, script writer of "30 Seconds Over Tokyo." Judge Edward M. Curran imposed the penalty on Lawson, author of such films as "Smashup" and "Blockade."

The sentencing came after both were denied new trials. Lawson was convicted April 19 and Trumbo on May 5.

Both were accused of refusing to tell the house Un-American activities committee last fall whether they were Communists. Eight other Hollywood figures were indicted on similar charges.

POSSIBLE END SEEN IN MEAT STRIKE TODAY

Will Announce Result of Vote by Workers; Harvester Co. Situation Better.

By The Associated Press

The possible end of the prolonged meat strike and removal of a strike threat at International Harvester Company plants were bright spots in the nation's industrial strife today.

Results of the vote by the striking CIO Packinghouse Workers on whether to end their 67-day-old strike were expected to be announced today at the union's national headquarters in Chicago.

Herbert March, strike director, predicted the vote to end the work stoppage on company terms will favor return to all plants except Wilson and Company. He predicted a close vote for returning to work at plants of three other major packers — Swift, Cudahy and Armour.

Plants Patroled

As the votes were being tabulated, National Guardsmen continued to patrol strike-bound plants in Waterloo, Ia., and in Albert Lea, South St. Paul and Newport, Minn., scenes of recent disorders.

In Waterloo, National Guardsmen with fixed bayonets stood prepared to protect non-striking workers going to their jobs at the strike-bound Rath Packing company plant. One picket was killed Wednesday night and the guard was called after a riot.

The estimated 100,000 striking packinghouse workers voted last night on acceptance of a nine-cent hourly pay boost, retroactive to the March 16 strike call; retention of all seniority rights and arbitration with the companies on possible discharge of workers accused of unlawful acts during the strike.

Against Return to Wilson

The union struck in support of demands for a wage hike of 29 cents an hour, rejecting company offers of nine cents. March said the union recommended strikers to vote against returning to Wilson plants because the company proposed to reserve the right to re-employ all strikers and said it would not re-hire workers charged with unlawful acts. About 8,000 workers are normally employed at the struck plants operated by Wilson.

Officials of the International Harvester company and the CIO farm equipment union signed an agreement in Chicago to extend contracts to June 28. The working agreements cover 40,000 employes in 12 plants.

The union, under terms of the Taft-Hartley act, had taken all procedure necessary to call a strike. A union spokesman said extention of the contract postpones any threat of a walkout. Negotiations are to be resumed next week.

ASSAILS LEWIS AS "WRECKER"

Spokesman of Coal Industry Sees Miners' Head Building Up Strike Alibi.

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, May 21—A coal industry spokesman charged today that John L. Lewis "wrecked" conferences for a new coal wage contract to build up an "alibi for another strike."

John D. Battle, secretary of the National Coal association, assailed Lewis for walking out of the conference room two days ago solely because industry representatives insisted on a seat for the southern coal Producers association.

Lewis, he said, is working the "old familiar pattern" of hiding behind "any excuse to put fear into those who must use coal to keep the wheels of commerce turning."

Battle issued his angry statement as Lewis and the UMW's executive board gathered for a meeting where they may consider a request by the mine operators for resumption of the joint wage conference.

Persons familiar with coal negotiations said chances were slim that Lewis would accept because it would require a complete reversal of the public position he has taken since last Tuesday.

The operators sent their offer by letter to Lewis last night, just about the time the union issued a statement again expressing a willingness to negotiate on a new contract to replace the agreement expiring June 30.

Neither side changed its position, however. The operators said Lewis made a mistake "breaking up the conference" by trying to exclude Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association.

The union's statement, on the other hand, charged that "a minority of operators consciously wrecked the conference" by insisting on Moody's admission. It clung to its position that the operators' stand constituted a violation of the present contract.

FREEING OF CITIZENS DEMANDED BY U.S.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 21—The United States demanded today that the Lebanese government release 40 American citizens taken off the American steamship Marine Carp at Beirut.

The state department announced the U. S. minister to Lebanon, Lowell Pinkerton, was instructed to submit the demand.

The department announced at the same time that American diplomatic representatives in all the Arab countries, including Lebanon, have been advised the United States would "view seriously" any discrimination against American citizens because of race, color or creed.

The group removed from the Marine Carp were between 19 and 55, and the Lebanese authorities took the stand they might bear arms for the new Jewish state of Israel. The Marine Carp was enroute to Palestine.

The American citizens, together with 29 persons of other nationalities, were interned in former French barracks at Baker, Lebanon.

The department said Lebanese authorities had threatened to use force, if necessary, in removing them from the ship when it touched at Beirut Wednesday.

Possible violence or bloodshed apparently was averted because Pinkrton advised the passengers not to resist seizure.

Marionite Recalls Snow Of 65 Years Ago Today

With the temperature at 77 at noon today and straw hats beginning to appear, this balmy May 21, 1948, is a far cry from May 21, 1883, 65 years ago, when the Marion area was blanketed with three inches of snow.

Kay Leeper of 416 Summit street, retired farmer and former county commissioner, recalls the unseasonal fall on that date. He was 14 at the time and on his father's farm in Grand Prairie township about six and a half miles north of Marion. The snowfall did no particular damage to crops, he reported, as there was no freeze.

YOUTH BOUND TO GRAND JURY

West Virginian Faces Armed Robbery Charge in Hold-up Near Waldo.

Walter G. Quesenberry, 19, one of the two young gunmen from West Virginia who were nabbed by the state highway patrol Wednesday night after the hold-up of a filling station near Waldo, will face the Marion county grand jury next week on a charge of armed robbery.

His confederate William J. Combs, 20, still in a Columbus hospital recovering from injuries suffered in his capture by James E. Mansperger, state highway patrolman, will be brought to Marion to face a similar charge, the first of next week, Deputy Sheriff Edgar Fink said today.

Quesenberry brought to Marion yesterday afternoon from Columbus was arraigned in municipal court this morning on the armed robbery charge. He entered a plea of "guilty" and was bound over under $3,000 bond sent by Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen. He is in the county jail awaiting action by the grand jury.

Deputy Fink said Quesenberry signed a statement in the presence of state highway patrol authorities and the Marion officer in Columbus yesterday admitting the robbery. Combs was not allowed to be interviewed at the hospital due to his condition, the deputy said.

Admits Car Stolen

Quesenberry also admitted the 1936 Chevrolet sedan they used was stolen in West Virginia about 10 p. m. Monday night and that the pair had been joy riding through several states before pulling the Waldo stick-up.

He told officers that on Wednesday, the day of the robbery, they had come down from the Detroit area and had reached Marion late in the afternoon, tired, broke and nearly out of gas.

15,000 FILE PAST BIER OF FATHER FLANAGAN

By The Associated Press

BOYS TOWN, Neb., May 21—Youth of all races and creeds paid last respects today to their great friend and benefactor—Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Flanagan, founder and director of world-famous Boys Town.

Dowd Memorial chapel on the ground of the haven for homeless and neglected boys was prepared to receive the body after two solemn masses of requiem said by priests of the Omaha archdiocese.

The body of Father Flanagan, who once said: "I have yet to find a single boy who wants to be bad," will rest in a sarcophagus in the northeast corner of the chapel.

Rev. Edmund C. Walsh, acting director of Boys Town, said Father Flanagan had asked to be buried in the chapel. "So I can be near the boys and they can come and visit me."

A marble slab, on which is engraved "Father Flanagan, founder of Boys Town, lover of Christ and man, July 13, 1886—May 15, 1948" will seal the stone sarcophagus.

Father Walsh disclosed early today that since the body was brought home from Berlin, where Father Flanagan died, more than 15,000 persons had filed past the bier.

ARAB FORCES CLAIM CONTROL OF LARGE AREA

Report That 80 Per Cent of Old City Now in Their Hands.

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Correspondent

WITHIN THE OLD CITY IN JERUSALEM, May 21—The end of a four-day-old battle for old walled Jerusalem seemed to be in sight today.

Arabs claimed last night their forces controlled 80 per cent of the old city, seized by their forces or abandoned by the Jews.

The Jewish Haganah and Irgun Zvai Leumi had been driven back to thin defense line along the west side of the Jewish quarter.

Midway of that line they were holed up for a last stand in the Beit Yaacov or Hurva (Ruin) synagogue, on a spot where Jews have worshipped for 700 years and two earlier temples have been destroyed.

The Jews withdrew into that synagogue yesterday with Arab capture of the Tiferet Israel synagogue, Jerusalem's tallest structure, to the east.

King Abdullah's Trans-Jordan Arab legion was at their backs, threatening to block escape. The Legion had most of the Armenian quarter, west of the Jewish section. It was reported unofficially in firm control of Zion Gate just below that quarter in the southernmost of Jerusalem's 400-year-old walls.

Battle in School

Legionnaires on the gate traded automatic weapon fire yesterday with Jews in a school on Mount Zion a few score yards away.

(A delayed dispatch from Carter L. Davidson of The Associated Press in the Jewish area of Jerusalem said when 100 young Jews penetrated Zion gate Wednesday, it was the first time in almost 500 years the city walls had been forced. The dispatch was dated Wednesday. The Jews went in to reinforce defenders of the Jewish quarter).

In the new city outside the walls the Legion had thrust from the northern limits down Ramallah road to the Damascus gate on the north side of the old city and last night was trying to clear the Jews from Allenby Square opposite the gate.

Defenders Pushed Back

West of there Legion gunners pushed back Jewish defenders from the north side of the Mea Shearim quarter, including Central prison, the law courts, the Russian cathedral and the Abyssinian church.

Arab artillery covered the Ramallah road push. The Legion bombarded the Sanhedriya Jewish quarter to the northwest of Mea Shearim, threatening the Arab right flank. Arab volunteers shelled the Hebrew university on Mount Scopus to the northeast, aiming for Haganah snipers.

On the southwest side of the new city, Haganah still held the railroad station but was reported to have withdrawn from the government printing building.

Jewish mortar fire aimed near the Damascus and Herod's gates in the north wall caused Arab civilian casualties yesterday in the Old City. Arabs held nearly everything north and east of the walls except Mount Scopus Jewish positions.

In the Old City's Jewish quarter, the easternmost Midrash Porat Yosef synagogue and Misgiuh Ladach hospital have been pounded into virtual ruin by Legion artillery fire, but no sacred structures outside that quarter seem to have suffered much damage.

TO ASK EXTENSION OF SOCIAL SECURITY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 21—President Truman will ask congress in a special message to extend benefits of teh social security law.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky), senate minority leader, said after a White House conference today the message will go to capitol hill within a few days.

Presumably the message will recommend extension of social security benefits to farm labor, domestics, self-employed persons and other groups not now covered.

The conference also was attended by house Minority Leader Rayburn (Tex) and Democratic members of the senate finance and the house ways and means committee.

Barkley said in addition to the extension of coverage to new classes, the question of increased benefits to those already covered was discussed.

As to whether there is any chance for congressional action, Barkley said "the President hopes so."

BODIES OF SIX MEN BROUGHT FROM MINE

By The Associated Press

DANTE, Va., May 21 — Grim and sweat-streaked rescue crews early today brought to the surface the last of six miners killed last night after a roof section collapsed in the Clinchfield Coal company's No. 2 mine.

Tons of coal, earth and debris buried the miners alive as they worked in the mine tunnel four miles underground. There was no explosion.

Mine distpatcher J. M. Smith said the roof collapse simply "blew the coal out and over the men working near it."

Four other miners, working some 400 yards away in the corridor, were injured, but only slightly, in the accident. They were brought from the shaft about midnight after four hours' entombment.

Hundreds of persons lined the mine entrance as the bodies were brought up by rescue crews working in relays.

The dead were listed by Smith as Earis Atrid, Arnold Vickers, Harold Park, Oakley Creger, Troy Phillips, and a miner named Rasnick. All were from the Dante region.

Dante is in Russell county, near the Dickinson county line, in southwest Virginia.

Teen-Age Runaways from Ohio Halted on Cowboy Career Plans

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 21—Five teen-age boys, whose cowboy careers were nipped by police, auxiously awaited the arrival of their parents today from Ohio.

Police spent two hours last night sorting, stacking and counting piles of bills and silver found on the youths. It totaled almost $4,500.

Detective Daniel Kenny quoted the smallest boy, Kenneth Byer, 12, as saying he took a pile of money from his grandmother's secret hoard to finance the trip. He said he hadn't counted the money because "it was too much trouble." His grandmother reported $6,000 missing.

Kenny said young Byer told him "I saw her put some money into a cigar box in her room three weeks ago. Pretty soon it began to bother me."

Boys Tell Their Story

The detective pieced together the following story of the trip:

Kenneth decided Wednesday to go west. He called four chums and told them: "I've got enough money for all of us. We'll go to Arizona and buy horses."

The group reached Chicago by train yesterday morning. Having a good part of a day to wait for a train to Arizona, they spent a pleasant afternoon eating, seeing shows and shopping. Of the $1,500 they spent, part went for their train tickets and entertainment and the remainder for what they considered the only proper garments to wear in the west.

These consisted of fancy shirts, tall hats, cowboy boots and wide belts ablaze with rhinestones.

Meanwhile, police had been busy. A complaint telling of the boys' disappearance and the missing money was received here. A check with the telephone company showed that several of the lads had phoned girls in Lakewood from Chicago.

Spotted In Rail Station

Detectives Kenny and Joseph Newman began a check of railroad stations. At the LaSalle street depot, they spotted five boys similar in age to the lads sought. But the boys' clothing bore no resemblance to the drab apparel described as having been worn by the runaways.

As an experiment, Detective Kenny said in a loud voice:

"I wonder how things are in Lakewood."

The boys blushed, looked embarrassed and tried to appear unconcerned. A few minutes later, however, they admitted their identities and were on their way to the police station.

Police said today they were awaiting arrival of the parents before deciding what to do with the boys.

Young Byers' companions were Frank Blumel, 14; Stephen Petras, 17; Nick Nicklos, 12, all of Lakewood, and Lynn Shlegel, 15, of Cleveland.

2 BOYS STEAL PLANE, PILOT IT IN FLIGHT

By The Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 21—Two fifth-graders who studied flying in comic books confessed to the state patrol last night they piloted a stolen plane almost to Texas.

"There is no doubt about it," the patrol said.

The plane was a two-place Ercoupe with simplified controls advertised as nearly fool-proof.

"They said it was easy," Trooper Arch Hamilton said.

"They'd looked at some comic books that told all about it. They thought we were silly not to know how.

"They made a perfect landing."

Astonishment at the 120-mile flight — air distance — almost drowned out talk of a juvenile court hearing tomorrow morning.

"It's incredible . . . I am astounded. This is more than mere mischief," one of the fathers, Attorney Burney P. Bodard, said.

The grade-school aviators are Jimmy Bodard, 11, and Robert Ronald Peterson, 12. Both families are prominent here. Robert, the largest, weighs 85 pounds.

MONSANTO OFFICIAL SPEAKS BEFORE CLUB

Prescott Sandidge on Exchange Program.

Prescott Sandidge, associate director of the Dayton area for the Monsanto Chemical Co., which will soon begin construction of a new atomic research plant in Marion, was guest speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the Marion Exchange club, held Thursday noon at Hotel Harding.

Commenting on construction of the atomic research plant here Mr. Sandidge said designs for the plant were prepared by Giffels and Vallet, designing engineers, of Dayton. Construction of the plant will be done by the Maxon Construction Co., also a Dayton firm, and will require 800 to 1,000 construction workers to do the job. Upon completion of the atomic research plant the majority of the workers here will be men of scientific training their assistants, and maintenance and security personnel, he added.

In explaining the workings of the Monsanto Co. Mr. Sandidge illustrated his address with colored photographs depicting present operations of the company and the development of the company from humble beginnings to its present position of fifth largest of the world's chemical companies.

Mr. Sandidge was accompanied here by Howard Nason of Dayton, associate director of Monsanto operations there, and by Tom Martin, Monsanto's official photographer, also of Dayton. All three men flew here from Dayton especially for the Exchange meeting and flew back to Dayton from Marion airport after the meeting closed. The trip here from Dayton took 45 minutes Mr. Sandidge said.

Other guests at yesterday's meeting were T. J. Turner, field engineer of the Gates Rubber Co. of Newark; and Louis Cox of the Holland Furnace Co. of Galion.

Thirty Exchange club members attended yesterday's meeting.

George III of England created or revived 254 peerages of the United Kingdom, excluding Ireland.

Men of Erie

One of Erie's Great Trains Is "Reborn" Daily in Marion

CHAPTER 5

"Famous Trains and Trainmen"

MEN and equipment make a railroad and from the opening of the line on Sept. 23, 1842, the Erie had the best of both. Engine 4, the famous Orange, and No. 5 the Ramapo, in that order pulled the first two trains over the completed line to Goshen. Upon occasion after occasion, the Orange was to draw the first train into town after town in the midst of huge celebrations. She led so many of these parades, that without her decorations, she must have felt positively naked.

She was by far the most important of all the very early Erie locomotives, for she had the first cab. Prior to her design, engineers were exposed to all manner of weather conditions. Until 1848 the Orange ran swiftly and faithfully back and forth between Piermont and Middletown, and a little later through to Otisville and Port Jervis. Then she was sent by river and canal to Binghamton, where she helped complete the Erie into that important town. Again her career of pulling first trains into towns commenced, until the line reached Hornellsville, where she was sold to another railroad which used her for the same purpose.

* * *

THE ORANGE had the Erie's first really renowned engineer, "Dandy Joe" Meginnis, who was the envy of every small boy in Orange and Sullivan counties. In those days, and for years after, the social position of a railroad engineer was a unique one. He was without peer; a man of romance and glamor. For this reason, a description of "Dandy Joe" is interesting, from the pen of the railroad enthusiast, Edward Mott.

"He was dainty in his dress, even on his engine, and never appeared anywhere with oil or the grime of his engine on his hands or face. He was a most competent man and his instincts were fine. Engineer Meginnis always had his choice of locomotives from new ones that came upon the road. He quit the locomotive service in 1857 to take charge of the railroad dining saloons at Port Jervis and Narrowsburg."

William Hall, Charles Sherman and Benjamin Hafner ("The Flying Dutchman") were famous engineers in their day on the Erie, but perhaps the most famous of them all was Horatio G. Brooks.

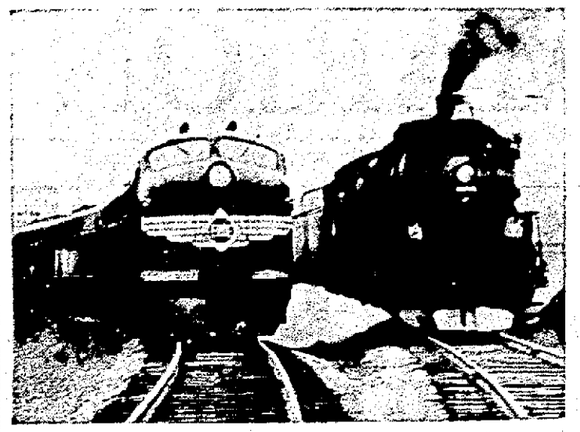
* * *

BROOKS WENT OUT to the far west end of the road at Dunkirk in the autumn of 1850 with New York and Erie locomotive No. 90, which was Hinkley-built in Boston Town. The engine and Brooks came into Dunkirk by ship, and for the next 60 years or so his name was closely identified with the brisk little city.

The 90, which was a hook motion locomotive, with independent cut-off, went into action at once on the uncompleted railroad, hauling iron and other construction materials for the track east of Dunkirk. Brooks ran her, and when the last gap in the track had been closed, Brooks and the 90 hauled a passenger train on the Western division. However, he was too valuable a man to spend all his life in an engine cab. Soon he was superintendent of the Western division, and later, master mechanic of the entire road. In 1868, when the maintenance shop at Dunkirk was abandoned, Horatio Brooks took it over and transformed it into one of the great locomotive works of America. At one time, it was turning out from 60 to 70 locomotives a month.

* * *

ERIE LOCOMOTIVE NO. 499 deserves mention for many reasons, chief of which are the circumstances of its building. Nothing could show the affection of the engineers of Erie for their road more than the subscription they made among themselves to construct 499. Built at the Cook works of the American Locomotive Co. at Paterson, N. J., it was exhibited at the Chicago World's Fair in 1893 as the "Engineers' Engine." It only weighed 224,000 pounds as opposed to many modern steam locomotives which weigh over 900,000 pounds.



TWO TYPES OF LOCOMOTIVES used for hauling Erie trains today are shown above—the modern Diesel-electric and the 3300-series steam locomotives. They speed the movement of people and goods to many places between Chicago and New York City.

When Frederick D. Underwood became president of the Erie, he brought a progressive mind to the office. The Matt H. Shay was typical of his efforts to modernize the line. Named in the best Underwood tradition after its engineer, this locomotive was the biggest in the world in its day. It was capable of hauling 641 fifty-ton freight cars, equal to a train four and a half miles long. It appeared as a pusher east of Susquehanna over the stout Starrucca Viaduct and up the long gradie to Gulf Summit on the way to Deposit.

* * *

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE to overestimate Erie 98. Today, this train is reborn every 24 hours in the great eastbound yards of Erie, at Marion, Ohio. She is an advance guard of a mighty company of heavy duty fast freights on a railroad which derives nearly 90% of its revenues from the carriage of goods. On the road she has first call, priority rights of every sort. At the end of the year she must show a 90% on time record, for some of her cargo is perishable and the rest on a tight delivery schedule.

Actually, she frequently becomes three and even four trains, all of which run closely together, and which bear the same symbol, the mystic 98. Nowadays, Diesels take the western section of the run, and rob the heavy grades of much of their former terror. Steam takes over from Salamanca to Hornell where diesels take over again, for the run to Jersey City.

It is a far cry from the old Orange to the modern Diesels, yet the same basic spirit is behind every trip made. No longer are there railroad engineers like "Dandy Joe" and "The Flying Dutchman" who capture the public imagination. Instead the trains are run by a crew on a steady schedule with top flight equipment. Much of the old excitement and glamor is gone. In its place there is solid efficiency, recognizing the fact that excitement in railroading is based on uncertainty. Today, the Erie is confident and certain, and its service reflects this feeling.

* * *

THE REASON for the present efficiency may be traced largely to the incumbent president of the road, Robert E. Woodruff. (Editor's note. Mr. Woodruff is a former Marion resident, living here when superintendent of the Kent division.) He is a typical Erie man, to whom the good of the road always comes first. He went to work as a section hand on the old Mahoning Division when he graduated from Purdue university in 1905. He began a steady upward climb to the head of the company in 1941. The result is that he knows the problems of practically every employe on the road, and meets problems before they arise. At the same time he had made up a system of promotion which will insure that his rise from the ranks will be the usual thing from now on. A typical Erie man, in developing the service, is developing his personnel to make the road the finest in the country.

SCRAPBOOKS JUDGED AT VERNON SCHOOL

Winners Named in Ohio History Project.

A scrapbook project dealing with Ohio's history, inaugurated this school term at Vernon Heights Junior High school was concluded this week with the judging of the scrapbooks and announcement of the winners in the various sections.

Set up as a part of the Seventh grade geography work this year the pupils listened to the weekly broadcast, "Once Upon a Time in Ohio," over Station WOSU each Tuesday afternoon, and received other information through correspondence with the various state departments including the department of conservation and highways, and various chambers of commerce in the state. News articles on historical events, pictures, postcards, on-the-scene photographs, signatures of important Ohioans, sales tax displays, birds, trees, historical spots and other information make up the scrapbooks. Many of the scrapbooks were set up in type and some include as many as 200 pages.

Seventy-five scrapbooks were entered. Winners in the various sections are: Section 7-1: Nancy Indoe, first, Shirley Tsumpes, second and Clifford Alexander, Joe Donithen and Lennette Smith, honorable mention; Section 7-2: Ralph Bender, first, Rosalyn Kaelber, second, Shirley Young, Jeri Barnhill and Peggy Kellogg, honorable mention; Secton 7-3: Betty Dowler, first, Marlene Gamble, second, and Ethel Balthaser, Jane Gillespie and Jane Larkin, honorable mention; Section 7-4: Donna Falke, first, Betty Bowden, second and Ann Wittmer, Janice Jacobs and Marilyn Turner, honorable mention. Judges were Supt. L. L. Dickey and A. C. May, principal at Harding High school.

This afternoon the four first prize winners are in Columbus where they are to visit the Ohio State Museum, Station WOSU and other points of interest.

$25 Fine Assessed On Traffic Charges

Dr. C. G. Smith of 837 South Prospect street was fined $25 and costs by Judge Hazen in municipal court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to charges of obstructing traffic and failing to obey an officer's signal. The charges were in an affidavit filed yesterday by Chief of Police William E. Marks as the result of an incident between Dr. Smith and Patrolman George Manley at 9:15 p. m., May 14.

According to the patrolman, Dr. Smith double-parked in front of a news stand on East Center street opposite the courthouse and when asked to move on to relieve traffic congestion drove farther up the street and parked in a bus zone. Directed to drive into a legal parking place or receive a ticket, Dr. Smith did move his car but so slowly that he continued to obstruct traffic, according to Manley's report. Manley said he then gave Dr. Smith a ticket, that the doctor tore it up and drove a...

Disorder with Many Remedies

[illegible] ... penicillin. This substance is active ... [illegible] ... germs only when the urine ... [illegible] ... acid. Its usefulness ... it would ... [illegible] ... further limitation by the fact that in the ... [illegible] ... to choose certain cases ... [illegible] ... from.

This application of penicillin ... however ... more apparent than ... real because it is matched by the ... number of different kinds of ... germs which can cause trouble ... in this area, some of which will ... be knocked out by one drug but be ... impervious to others. Thus, the ... best treatment can only be decided after the types of germs causing the infection have been identified.

Perhaps the oldest drug used in the treatment of infections of the urinary tract is known by the long name of hexamethylenetetramine which is useful in controlling infections due to certain types of ... [illegible] ... irritation when employed over the period of time—10 to 14 days—needed to get rid of the infection.

Another time-tested remedy is called mandelic acid. It, also, is effective against infection with certain types of bacilli, but it, too, must be used when the urine is acid. Unfortunately, the mandelic acid often causes sickness at the stomach and vomiting if it is used over a period of days or weeks.

The sulfonamide drugs have proved quite satisfactory as urinary antiseptics. They also work well against many bacteria called cocci as well as some bacilli. The sulfonamide drug known as sulfacetamide appears particularly valuable, not only because it is a good germ-killer, but also because it is not particularly toxic. It has the further advantage of being rapidly eliminated through the kidneys, and thus gets into the urine in high concentration.

Penicillin is quite effective against urinary infections due to Staphylococci and Streptococci. Sometimes the urinary tract infection is due to combination of germs; that is, there are both cocci and bacilli. In such instances, the penicillin may not be effective because bacilli produce a substance which destroys the action of the penicillin. In these cases it is suggested that both penicillin and sulfacetamide be used. The drugs are continued for a period of from seven to nine days. It is rarely necessary to carry out the treatment for a longer period of time.

When urinary tract infections occur with such symptoms as pain, burning on emptying of the bladder, and fever, a careful study must be made to determine the type of germs causing the difficulty; then the doctor will decide just what treatment may be employed most effectively.

Questions and Answers

M. S.: I am twenty-three years of age. I have noticed a sudden rapid growth of hair on my arms and legs. What is causing this?

Answer: The exact cause of superfluous hair is not known, although it is presumed to be due to some disorder of the glands of internal secretion.

A thorough study by a physician would be advisable to determine whether or not any glandular disorder is present.

MAY FESTIVAL HELD AT VERNON SCHOOL

200 Pupils Take Part in Spring Program.

Students of Vernon Heights Junior High school held a May festival for dance Friday afternoon, May 14, in the school gymnasium with more than 200 pupils attending. The affair was sponsored by the Vernon Y-Teen organizations with Miss Lela Brookshire, faculty advisor in charge, assisted by Miss Una Ackley.

Streamers of colored crepe paper formed a canopy over the dance floor and decorated various booths placed in the room where refreshments were served. The words "May Festival" were formed on the walls with colored paper.

In charge of refreshments were Judy Reichenstein, Barbara Wells, Ruth Parshall and Joan Buller of the ninth grade, Dorothy Rinnert, Maureen Smally, Diane Umbaugh, Carol Luff and Phyllis Neggemeyer of the eighth grade, and Betty Dowler, Marty Gamble, Betty Bowdon and Judy Hamilton of the seventh grade.

The grand march was led by Y-Teen officers and committee chairmen including Marilyn Bachman, Jill Pluenel, Nancy Rutherford, Mary Hamor, Carol Tottlebaum, Joanna Jacobs, Carolyn Klutey, Sue Swink and Phyllis Huffman. In keeping with the festival theme, the dances included the "Flower Dance," "Windmill Spin" and "Balloon Bounce," along with the concluding number "Waltzing Your Favorite Home."

During the intermission, a maypole dance was held with 16 girls, dressed in spring formals, winding long colored paper ribbons around the pole. The girls were Sue Swink, Marilyn Bachman, Joanna Jacobs, Joan Clark, Elma Bear, Phyllis Huffman, Mary Hamor, Martha Knickle, Jill Pluchel, Carolyn Klutey, Sue [illegible], Terry Jo [illegible], Barbara [illegible], Wallis [illegible], Carol [illegible], Turbeville and Betty Bressler.

Sermon Topics

Rural area pastors announce the following topics for Sunday: St. Paul Lutheran, Prospect, "The Comfort of the Holy Trinity"; St. Stephens Evangelical, Rev. [illegible] Wilco, and St. John's Reformed, Rev. [illegible] Bering, "Being Gods and Serving God"; Ashley Methodist, "The Shadow of a Man."

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

W[illegible] of a figure did the [illegible] the barroom floor [illegible]

[illegible]y out pussy in the [illegible] mowed down Cock[illegible] why? Where's El[illegible]

[illegible] celebrated mysteries [illegible] unsolved by the reported discovery of Jesse James alive and well in Oklahoma at the age of 100—and drawing more interest than he ever got from a bank.

Hal Boyle

It is a dull year indeed when somebody doesn't revive the famous Missouri outlaw, and it is only recently that doubles for John Wilkes Booth, the man who shot Lincoln, quit reappearing. Booth would be 110 years old now and entitled to a lot of back payments on his old age pension.

The time is ripe for congress to set up a permanent commission to investigate all the popular puzzles that rise again and again to worry a peaceful people.

Let's get rid of these uncertainties. Where is Elmer indeed? Did the face on the barroom floor have piano legs? Why do we have to go on wondering what became of Sally? Who really did pay the rent for Mrs. Rip Van Winkle while her husband was grabbing his long shut-eye? Let's don't just jest about why the chicken crossed the road. Let's find out.

THERE ARE ENOUGH OF these unsolved, vexing riddles to keep a congressional investigating committee busy forever. An ideal counsel for the committee would be Jim Moran, the first man in history to sit on an ostrich egg and hatch it single-handed by the warmth of his own personality. Moran boasts he also is the first man to sell an icebox to an eskimo and find a needle in a haystack.

Let's put him in charge of the committee's "lost and found" department and send him off in Rudyard Kipling's phantom rickshaw to get the real lowdown on what happened to Charley Ross, the kidnaped Philadelphia boy. He could also take sidetrips, expenses paid, looking for Ambrose Bierce, Justice Joseph Force Crater, Adolf Hitler, and the cigar store Indian.

That still leaves plenty of problems for the committee members themselves.

WHY HAS THE FIEND who put the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder never been brought to justice? His capture might swing the Irish vote in an election year.

Can't congress find out after all these years who broke the lock on the hen-house door? What about the lost Atlantis, the lost chord and the lost weekend? Can the FBI say for certain they weren't stolen? Can't it do anything about getting them back?

That goes for the missing link, too. Who misses it anyway? Do you? Maybe it's a dead issue now. Let's get the facts and tell the people.

Isn't it important in these dangerous times also to check into the identity of the little man that wasn't there? Where really was he then?

And there are other things worth checking—like where was everybody on the night of January 16th? And where was Moses when the lights went out? You don't really believe the childish jingle that he was down in the cellar eating sauerkraut, do you?

DID THE EGG come first or the chicken? Does the old man sleep with his whiskers over or under the covers? What makes the rustle in a bustle? How much did Shakespeare pay his ghost writer? Has Kilroy really been everywhere he says he has? Has he been wherever Elmer is?

Why does this country need a good five-cent cigar? What became of the nickel beer, the 40-cent blue plate special and the last of the Mohicans? Where are the snows of yesteryear? Can spring be far behind? Well, how far?

All these questions congress has avoided for years. But I can save the committee the trouble of exploring one mossy problem—what happened to vaudeville?

Take a look at your television set. There's vaudeville. Maybe Elmer will show up on the screen next.

PICTURE PREMIERE SET AT LANCASTER

Hollywood Stars, Governors and a Senator To Take Part.

The world premier of the 20th Century-Fox Technicolor production, "Green Grass of Wyoming," at Lancaster, O., will be held Tuesday night, May 25, as a climax to a four-day celebration in the Fairfield County seat which is to get underway Saturday morning, May 22. The racing sequences of the color production were filmed last year at the Lancaster fairgrounds.

Celebrities from Hollywood and Washington, D. C., are to gather at Lancaster for the activities. Among the movie stars the Hollywood studio will fly to Lancaster, arriving Monday noon, are Peggy Cummins and Charles Coburn, two of the stars of "Green Grass of Wyoming."

As another of the celebration activities, a radio broadcast will be presented from the stage of the Lancaster auditorium at 5:30 p. m. Monday when the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.'s "The Ohio Story" program puts on the air a version of "Forest Rose," the historical romance of Rose Forester, who was captured by Indians and rescued by her sweetheart and Lewis Wetzel, scout, at Mt. Pleasant, Lancaster's scenic promontory and background for the Fairground race scenes in the movie.

Tuesday morning, Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming will be in Lancaster for the official dedication and naming of Wyoming Park in east Lancaster. Senator O'Mahoney will plant some genuine Wyoming sod sent by plane by his state's Gov. Lester Hunt, and he will participate with Ohio's Sen. John W. Bricker and Gov. Thomas J. Herbert in a ceremony raising the U. S. flag and the flags of the two states. Among others planning to attend are former Ohio governors Frank J. Lausche, George White and Myers Y. Cooper.

Simultaneous showings of "Green Grass of Wyoming" are scheduled for 8 p. m. Tuesday at the Palace and Broad theaters with personal appearances of the stars at each.

CRESTLINE OBSERVANCE OF MAY 30 OUTLINED

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE—Rev. Fr. Vincent Herman of St. Joseph's Catholic church will be the speaker for the memorial services at the memorial plot in Greenlawn cemetery Sunday, May 30. Arrangements for the observances were made this week by Harkley Helfrich post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. They include a parade of veterans groups, naval reserve marine corps, high school band, Knights of Columbus, Masonic organizations, Navy Mothers club, Boy and Girl Scouts, and other units.

Edward Laughbaum will be general chairman of the day; the service chairman is Roy Payne of the DAV (Disabled American Veterans). Two Spanish-American war veterans will perform the flag raising ceremony. Joseph Rice is chairman of all parade arrangements.

The American Legion and the VFW made a four-year agreement, and alternate each year in sponsoring the Decoration day program.

Ceremonial honors are to be given by Harvey Whipple, American Legion post commander, and the chaplain of the day will be Paul Ault, past commander of the VFW post.

Wallace Willies

PEOPLE who should know better and do know better have swallowed the ban that Stalin has hung on Henry Wallace's political hook.

They are taking the mystic seriously in his psychic bid for the privilege of conducting the foreign affairs of the United States without the assistance of the duly elected government. They are putting their own responsible officials on the defensive, which is where Wallace wants them to be.

Mr. Wallace represents no one but himself in his private negotiations with the dictator of the Soviet Union. This is the same man whose over-ripeness in the ideological warfare of the times, has caused even the CIO—never noted for squeamishness—to hold its nose; the same man whose third party is being backed by the Communist party of the United States and points elsewhere; the same man whose only purpose is to create as much political confusion in his own country as possible on the sound premise that it would take a lot of confusion to let him get to first base with his political aspirations.

He holds no office. He couldn't be elected dog catcher in a one-man race. This is the second time he has tried to take over the conduct of foreign relations. The other time he was thrown out of a presidential cabinet in which he never belonged. It's a wistful hope. But will there be no end to the Wallace willies in this country? After little pigs, plowed-under cotton, milk for the Hottentots, Guru letters, economic crystal ball gazing and this latest hallucination of grandeur, surely the United States should have helpful Henry's number.

They Crabbed the Act

THE Zanesville High school seniors who were permitted to take over the city offices for a day and decided to do something about it have crabbed the act. City administrations elsewhere will think a long time before they run the risk of having school children raid gambling joints and condemn firetraps.

It took an hour and a half of frenzied wire-pulling just to get one school building reopened after a schoolboy "fire chief" had ruled it was a menace to public safety. It would have taken longer than that to reopen some of the city's gambling joints if the "chief of police" had filed charges after raiding them.

The possibilities of this sort of monkey business are hair-raising. A crowd of high school kids might take over the government for a day and dismiss all the deadwood on the payroll, issue executive orders for the survivors to give taxpayers a run for their money and clamp down on all the petty rackets known to the police department. But that assumes the juvenile new-brooms would have a chance to take over the government. Future requests for the privilege will be handled in the light of what happened in Zanesville. There will be plenty of precautions taken in the A.Z era now starting—After Zanesville.

The Principle of The Thing

THERE was a time—and not too long ago—when legislative lobbies were variously good and bad, depending on whose ax they were grinding and how they turned the grindstone.

Thus, the railroad lobby was in ill repute when it was "gittin' while the gittin' was good" and not letting squeamishness stand in the way. The power lobby, tariff lobby, veterans' lobby, banking lobby and various others all have drawn criticism at one time or another for their excesses.

It may have seemed that the excesses were peculiar to the behavior of their clients—that certain interests in the United States had a monopoly on high-pressure lobbying methods. For example, it didn't use to be the fashion to think of an agricultural lobby or a union labor lobby in the same way that one thought of the railroad lobby in the days when it was riding high, wide and handsome in Washington.

But lobbies gain and lose power as circumstances change. Some of the strong ones wither and are replaced by new ones. In any list of lobbies riding high, wide and handsome as in Washington now, the agricultural lobby and union labor lobby would be included. They share the people's resentment against all lobbies that use direct pressure on congress to obtain what they want, often at the expense of what the people need. It's the principle of lobbying that offends, not the client in whose behalf the lobbying is done.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Curious Methods of Awarding Prizes.

COLLIER'S magazine each year gives a prize to a member of the United States senate and a member of the house of representatives "for distinguished congressional service." Along with the citation, a gift of $10,000 goes to each winner to be given to public purposes designated by the winner. This year the prizes went to Alben W. Barkley, senator from Kentucky, and Christian A. Herter, representative from Massachusetts. Both are able men, Senator Barkley having led his party for many years. Congressman Herter having made a masterly investigation of conditions in Europe in connection with ERP. Barkley is a Democrat; Herter a Republican.

SOKOLSKY

The setup surrounding this prize-giving is complex. Collier's keeps out of it, except for a representative in Washington, James C. Derieux, who acts as liaison between the publishers and a committee which makes the final selections. This year the committee was headed by Eric A. Johnston and consisted of 20 members.

In order to be adequately advised, the committee is provided with considerable data, including two polls. According to the setup, the committee forms its own conclusions and it may ignore all the polls and all the data provided. Why Collier's bothers busy men to make decisions which may be, and this year were, ignored, it is difficult to understand. Perhaps, if the pollees knew that their votes did not count, they would save themselves the effort.

The polls are kept confidential so that usually the candidates for the prize, as well as the public assume that the final decision of Collier's committee in some way reflects the polls.

For instance, 28 Washington newswriters, editors, broadcasters and columnists were polled this year in an "advisory poll." They were asked to make first, second and third choices. Twenty candidates for the senatorial prize appeared and the top five for first choice were as follows:

Taft 12, Barkley 3, Flanders 3, Ives 2, Tobey 2.

An advisory nationwide poll of daily newspaper editors for the senatorial prize shows for the top five as first choice

Taft 113, Vandenberg 45, Byrd 21, Morse 9, Barkley 6.

For the house of representatives, the first five for first choice among the Washington newswriters, etc. shows:

Herter 16, Eaton 3, Halleck 2, Joe Martin 2, Dirksen 1.

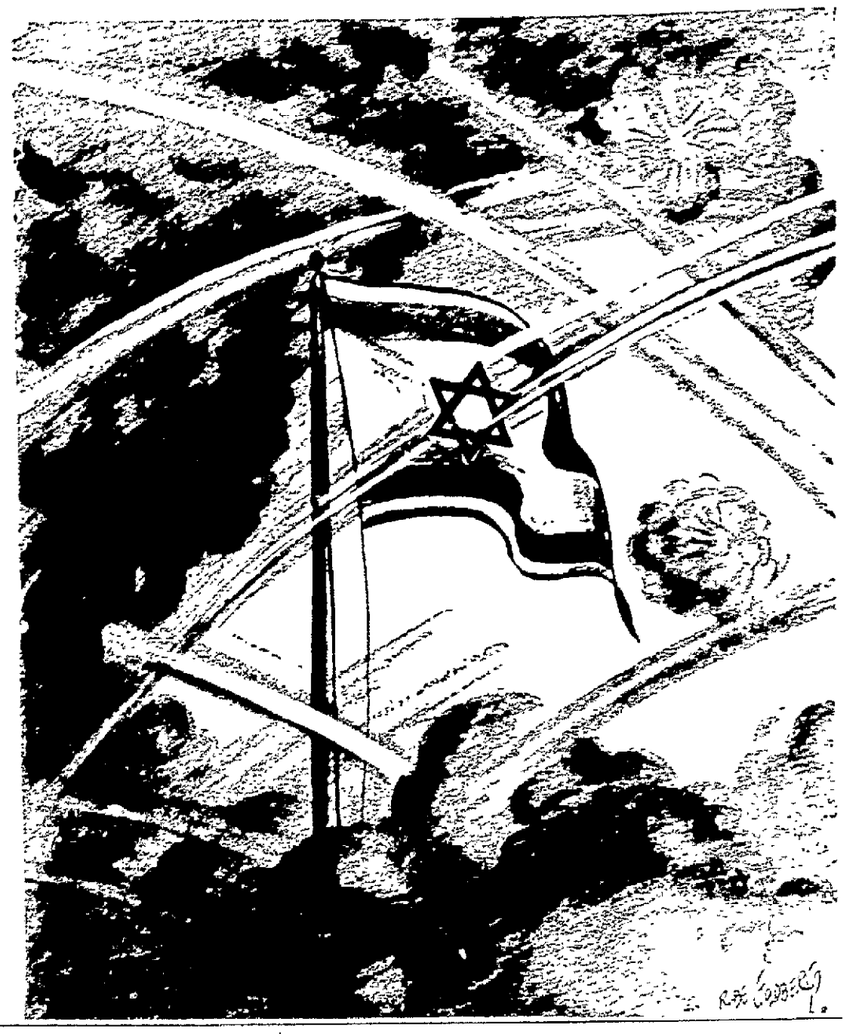
The nationwide poll of daily newspaper editors for the first five for first choice shows:

Joe Martin 47, Hartley 42, Herter 31, Knutson 14, Halleck 12.

Regarding the senatorial prize, the winner on the basis of both these polls would have been Senator Robert A. Taft; for the congressional prize, it would be between Christian Herter and Joe Martin. In spite of Taft's preference in both polls, the committee chose Barkley, who was second in one poll and fifth in the other.

There is much to be gleaned from these polls as to national interest and popularity, and as to that, there will be further reference in this column.

Birth of A Nation



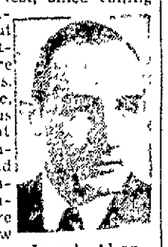
Barnstormer Dewey

By Joseph Alsop

PORTLAND, ORE.

AS this bitter Oregon primary draws to a close, it must at least be said that Governor Thomas E. Dewey has made a remarkable fight for his political life. A month ago, no one doubted that Harold E. Stassen had about 60 per cent of the Republican vote in Oregon safely in the bag. Now, the sound of whistling in the dark may be heard in the Stassen camp, while Dewey's entourage exudes sober confidence.

The voting must be left to provide the final test, since calling the turn of primaries is about as wise as betting on obscure claiming races. Meanwhile, however, it is important that weeks of barnstorming up and down this incredibly beautiful state have revealed a new Dewey.



Joseph Alsop

Dewey is pre-eminently a man who has grown with experience—preferably hard experience. He started his career with great abilities, intense ambition, a chilly personality and a collection of copybook maxims as his only key to the inwardness of other people. He always knew what he wanted—as long ago as 1938, refused $150,000 a year and a partnership in John Foster Dulles' law firm in order to stay in politics.

His Chief Difficulty

Dewey's real trouble was that he wanted what he wanted rather too intensively. A fish, peering upward through the water, sees what is on the bank as a mere pattern of light and dark. Dewey, peering at other people through the medium of his ambition, seemed to see all other human beings simply as stepping stones or obstacles. To be regarded as simply a stepping stone is on the whole unendearing. This was the epoch of Mrs. Kenneth Simpson's famous witticism, "You really have to know Tom Dewey to dislike him," which was not quite accurate because those closest to him, his personal staff, have always been devoted to him. None the less, Mrs. Simpson shrewdly hit upon Dewey's greatest difficulty, that most people having dealings with him did not take to him very warmly.

In the course of his upward climb, however, Dewey has by now had the cup of victory three times dashed from his thirsty lips—in his first race for the New York governorship, in his first bid for the Republican nomination, and in the presidential race in 1944. With each reverse, he learned something and grew a little. He is still able to do so. Wisconsin and Nebraska knocked the stuffings out of the slightly phony dignity, the pose of being the Republican party's obvious candidate, which he had adopted in preparation for 1948. Again he learned and grew.

Gloomy Conference

After Nebraska, he was ruined unless he could recoup in Oregon. There was a melancholy Dewey council of war in New York and his political alter ego, Paul Lockwood, flew at once to Portland. His first report was sheer, unalloyed gloom. Dewey has the dislike of the neatest boy in school for rough and tumble. But he immediately followed Lockwood across the continent, to carry his fight for the Republican nomination into Oregon's remotest hamlets.

The spectacle of Dewey the barnstormer has had its charming, its comic and even its stirring sides. The charm, it must hastily be added, has derived from the general scene—the curiously confidence-inspiring crowds of plain Americans, gathered in the plain little towns to hear the candidate, with the almost melodramatic splendor of Oregon scenery soaring up behind the last small wooden house. The comedy has been provided by Dewey, wonderfully good-humored but clearly working at it, being initiated as a caveman, wearing a funny green hat as a member of a boosters' group, and showing glowing gratitude for gifts of sadly uncontrolled live calves, damp boxes of razor clams and huge, terrifying slippery Pacific coast salmon.

Speeches Won Applause

But the comedy is not the point. Like Stassen's, Dewey's speeches have all been the same speech, with the same tried and true campaigning ingredients. They have had their embarrassing moments, as when he seeks to show his familiarity with foreign affairs by speaking, in effect, of "me, Winston Churchill and other rulers." But they have been good speeches all the same. They have gone over big. And Dewey has regularly got his warmest applause when he most deserved it.

No one can deny that a folksy Dewey is a new Dewey. A good many people would add that a Dewey with no tendency to straddle big issues is also a new Dewey. When he came out here, he had to meet the issue of Stassen's repeated proposal to suppress the Communist party, with all that this proposal involved of appeal to prejudice and easy emotion. Dewey met the issue head on, by making the Bill of Rights his rallying cry.

For an obvious reason, it is reassuring to be able to report that this hard-driving, remarkably competent but sometimes rather inhuman governor is still growing as a man and a leader. For if the confidence of Dewey's staff is justified by the voters, the results will be dramatic. The Stassen bandwagon will grind to a quick stop. The Dewey bandwagon will recover its momentum. Dewey will again be the front-running candidate for the Republican nomination if his Oregon effort pays off.

This Should Be A 2-stroke Penalty

An Atlanta citizen recently shot another in a dispute on a golf course.

Some people take the game too seriously.

At least he could have yelled "FORE!"

I've heard of golfers shooting birdies and eagles. But never before a bird of the feather.

Of course, the reason for that is most golfers eventually learn to control their tempers if not their slices.

But even so, golf course altercations are usually settled with a mid—rather than a shooting iron.

Incidentally, the shooting took place on a tee, thus exploding my theory that the assailant caught his victim teeing up in the rough.

Under most ground rules, the only time shooting another is permissible is when he talks when you're putting. Then it's not murder, but justifiable homicide.

One-Party System in Danger

Texas Democrats Started Revolt in 1944.

THE principal reason for taking note of the anti-Truman movement in the southern states this year is that Texas went through the same thing four years ago, says the Southern Weekly. The result today is that Texas is on the verge of adopting a two-party system. There was an open split among Texas Democrats over election of delegates to the Democratic national convention in 1944.

"It seems to be a necessary stage in the process of getting rid of the one-party brass collar." The Southern Weekly declares. "If the Democratic national convention nominates President Truman (as it will unless he withdraws) there will be a good chance that the people of Texas will give a majority to the Republican ticket in November. There will be such a chance in some other southern states also, but there will be no such chance in Mississippi, or in South Carolina or in Alabama, let us say. Yet, nothing is so certain than that these states will vote against Mr. Truman if he is nominated. They'll not vote the Republican ticket. But they will not vote for the Truman electors, either. They'll vote for electors who are pledged against Mr. Truman."

The Southern Weekly does not believe Mr. Truman is at fault. "It is our own idea," says the publication, "that the real enemy is not Mr. Truman, but the national Democratic party. That party has been transformed into a radical labor party and real Democrats have no place in it."

The civil rights program, according to The Southern Weekly, has caused such a furor that it has concealed more fundamental reasons for opposition to the national Democratic party. These reasons are concerned with repudiation of historic principles and adoption of views that are unacceptable to conservative Democrats. "If President Truman had never promulgated the 'civil rights' program," the publication says, "the reason for opposition to him and to the national Democratic party would be quite as impelling for real Democrats."

The recommended program of action for Texas Democrats is to keep all of their anti-administration votes in one column in the November election. The direction of real political progress in Texas, concludes The Southern Weekly, is support for the Republican ticket in 1948.

Why Children Leave School

By Jane Eads

THE UNITED STATES should take notice of the increasingly alarming proportion of youngsters dropping out of school annually without completing a high school education, warns the National Education Association.

Only 453 pupils out of every 1,000 are in school when the final year of high school is reached, N.E.A. states in a survey just completed. The survey is based on "school survival rates" for the nation, computed by the U. S. Offices of Education over a number of years. This means that over the nation each year 1,000,000 to 1,250,000 children drop out. They are quitting from "disinterest, discouragement, or for other reasons."

"If secondary education constitutes an essential minimum of training, which should be the common heritage of all citizens of this democracy" says N.E.A., "the nation can ill afford the prodigious waste of human resources represented by the numbers who leave school prematurely."

During the decade preceding World War II, the school survival rate into the final year of high school increased steadily. With the coming of World War II, however, the trend was halted, then reversed, the survey reveals.

N.E.A. says no single cause is responsible and points out "that many more are forced by straitened financial circumstances in their families to go to work. Others lack the sympathetic interest and encouragement at home....a few withdraw for health reasons."

The authors of one recent study of school withdrawals were led to the following conclusions: "Perhaps the best explanation of the fact that children who are past the upper age limit of the compulsory attendance law are not in school is simply that they do not like school. The reasons behind this attitude are many, chief of which are a dull and uninteresting offering, discouragement through failure, poor and indifferent teaching, inadequate buildings and equipment, lack of interesting extra-curricular activities, and the inconveniences of bus transportation."

Warming Up

Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican national committee, is warming up to his election year work. In "The Chairman's Letter," which is distributed to Republicans throughout the United States, Representative Reece describes the disunity of the opposition and says it's hard to know what it stands for any more. He suggests that applications for information be addressed to the following three reliable sources:

1. The Moscow wing of the party—Henry A. Wallace.
2. The Jim Crow wing of the party—Jackson, Miss.
3. The Pendergast wing—1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Gromyko Departs

Gromyko's leaving Lake Success—
The place won't seem the same, I guess.
How strange it seems to have him go.
He was a top act in the show.

The news will startle, jolt and jar—
He was the main ring super star.
Although your heart he could not clutch
He had the P.T. Barnum touch.

Each day he balanced with a grin
The ten-ton wrench upon his chin.
He knew the stellar headline's worth:
"The Greatest Vetoer On Earth!!!"

* * *

At each performance you would see
"The Great Gromyko" stolidly
Through his routine unaltered go
Of firing the massive "NO!"

No tights of pink Gromyko wore—
He had no spangled things galore—
His was no great big bag of tricks—
He simply threw the super "nix!"

He swung not from a high trapeze—
He did his stuff with greater ease;
No tight rope jitters did he give—
He just displayed his negative!

* * *

No bike above the crowds he rode—
A hairy chest he never showed—
No horse he rode because I guess
A horse might nod a simple "YES."

Great Uncle on one finger stood—
And this, in fact, was pretty good.
But Grommy upside down could stand
Without the use of either hand!

There upside down he liked to pose
For he could stand upon his "NOES"
Upon a length of Moscow wire
And never, never, never tire.

* * *

Now from the UN he is scratched,
His routine up to date unmatched:
A new man comes unknown to fame
The act I fear, will stay the same!

Paul Cusick, president of the Junior class was toastmaster and the welcome was extended by Jane Baldauf, a member of the junior class. The response was by Richard Schuler, president of the seniors. In the program which followed, Francis Klaus, a junior, paid tribute to Rev. Spickerman for his spiritual leadership, counsel, advice and sacrifice and in responding the pastor stressed the need of a full Christian life, a clear vision of the future and the Christian fortitude for self sacrifice and self control in meeting the problems of life. The tribute to St. Mary school was given by Jeannine Dunn, secretary of the junior class. Kevin Krigbaum, vice president of the junior class, spoke the farewell to the seniors and Patricia Richards gave the response. Serving with Richard Schuler president of the seniors, are Robert Stuber, vice president, Virginia Tobin, secretary and Kathleen Thome, treasurer.

Green and white, the school colors and also the senior class colors, were used to carry out the decorative theme. The motif was a Maypole and place cards were miniature Maypoles to which were caught diplomas for the classes of 1948-49.

Theme of Program

In keeping with the school's emphasis on family life and home the evening's entertainment centered on this theme. Preceding the prom the students gathered for the crowning of a statue of the Blessed Mother as their patron and queen of the prom, and sang "O Mary We Crown Thee" and "Our Prom Queen Today." The prom was led by Jeanne Brown and Richard Schuler, and the dance program was played by Glen Johnson and his orchestra. A number of parents and friends of the young people dropped in at the hotel during the evening.

Interspersing the dancing were skits and musical numbers by the juniors. A history of the senior class titled "Once Upon a Maytime," was presented in song and story by the juniors and junior girls entertained with a Maypole dance. A song, "After Graduation Day," was sung by the juniors. Joan Way sang a solo and there were other songs and poems by the group. The juniors and seniors joined to sing "Will You Remember." A buffet lunch was served during the dance intermission and dancing closed at midnight.

Members of both classes were in their accustomed places and sang the mass for the pupils at 8 o'clock this morning, later attending their classes. Following the mass, Rev. Spickerman commended them for last night's event and their cooperation in carrying out his and the school faculty's wishes of returning to their homes soon after the dance.

Officers of the host class are Paul Cusick, president, Jeannine Dunn, secretary, and Mary Alice Andrews, treasurer.

HOLDUP

south of Marion, they took a short nap and made plans "to get some dough." Dave's service station was the first likely prospect.

Quesenberry admitted he was the one who slugged Allan Wargowsky, the station attendant, using the butt of a .38 calibre police model revolver. He held the gun on Wargowsky while Combs cleaned the cash register, he related.

After being spotted by the highway patrolman who gave chase, he threw his gun away somewhere between Worthington and the point of capture near New California on route 33. Combs, armed with a .32 automatic, also tossed his gun away.

Deputy Fink said Quesenberry was taken back along the route yesterday morning in a search of several hours for the guns. They were not found however, although state patrolmen earlier had found discarded clothing and a blackjack along the road several miles west of Dublin.

Quesenberry in his statement to officers admitted only the auto theft in West Virginia and the holdup. He said he and Combs took the car, adding that Combs already had been "in dutch" with the federal officials having been caught after crossing the state line in a stolen car, the deputy reported.

Fink, by chance had just walked into the county jail office as the hold-up call came in from the Wargowsky's. He immediately headed for the scene where he was joined by Tom Morgan and a second patrolman from the Marion substation, after the call had been relayed to the patrol from the sheriff's office.

While at the service station, news came over the patrol cruiser radio that the gunmen had been spotted and were being chased. Fink and the two state patrolmen took off in the cruiser, striking southwest to forestall a possible attempt by the fugitives to double back north. They were kept in contact with the course of the chase by radio, arriving at the scene of the capture shortly after Mansperger had effectively completed the job.

It was a perfect example of the value of police radio, Fink said, adding that had the Marion county sheriff's department been as fully equipped as the patrol and on two-way radio, the men mighty mave been trapped more quickly.

AGRICULTURAL WEED-NO-MORE
A Proven Ester Formulation of 2,4-D
The new miracle chemical 2,4-D in Agricultural Weed-No-More, brings you the practical, low-cost way to kill weeds in growing small grains.
Spraying Agricultural Weed-No-More on young corn is faster than cultivating, kills weeds right up to the corn plants, makes row-planting practical.
On pastures, fence rows, ditch banks, and grassed waterways; Agricultural Weed-No-More kills many weeds, roots and all.
Agricultural Weed-No-More goes on fast—covers 7 to 15 acres per hour. It goes far, too—¼ pint to 2 pints in only 5 gallons of water treats 1 acre! Apply it by the new low-gallonage method developed and proved by Sherwin-Williams Research. Use a simple, low-cost rig that you or any local shop can quickly assemble.
AGRICULTURAL WEED-NO-MORE
Costs less per acre because it controls weeds more effectively!
Agricultural authorities have found that the ester forms of 2,4-D used in Agricultural Weed-No-More penetrate weed leaves within 5 minutes, do not wash off, mix easily with water, won't clog or corrode spray equipment, and are harmless to stock. Agricultural Weed-No-More has been proved on more than 500,000 acres.

The usual round and square dance party will be held Saturday night at Seccaium Park. The Chuck Wagon Pals band will play. Announcement of the regular dance season will be made at a later date.

Daughter of Ex-Pastor At Beech Is Bride

Before an altar banked with palms, Miss Carolyn Ruth Campbell, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James E. Campbell of Lafayette, Ind., became the bride of Harvey Logan Estes Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Estes Sr. of Fowler, Ind., in a lovely wedding performed in the Evangelical U. B. church at Montmorenci, Ind., on Sunday afternoon, May 9.

Rev. Campbell, father of the bride, assisted by Rev. William L. Peterson of Gilboa, read the double ring ceremony.

The announcement of the wedding was received by friends at Beech. Rev. Campbell served as pastor at Beech about 20 years ago at the Rural Salem Evangelical U. B. church.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Charles Hippensteel, wore a floor-length dress of white dotted swiss, and a fingertip veil of silk was held in place with lilies of the valley. She carried a cascade of pink roses and white lilacs. Her only attendant was Miss Juanita Estes, sister of the bridegroom. Earl Estes, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers included Jennings Newman, Edsel Estes and Vance Mitchell.

A reception for 100 guests was held.

Mrs. Estes is a graduate of Asbury college and for the last three years has been teaching at Pine school near Fowler. Mr. Estes is a graduate of Pine High school and is a veteran of World War II. The couple will reside on a farm near Fowler.

Plans Recovery Of Galion Down Payment

Special to The Star

GALION, May 21—City Solicitor George H. Davies plans to contact the Fairbanks, Morse company, Chicago, in an effort to recover the city's down payment of $10,800 to the company toward the purchase of a diesel.

Mr. Davies' action follows the permanent injunction granted Thursday by Judge C. U. Ahl of Crawford county courts, restraining the city from completing the contract with the Chicago firm for the purchase of a diesel, costing $108,000. Solicitor Davies inherited the suit from the former administration.

Kenneth M. Petri, attorney, filed the suit to block the purchase of the diesel.

Solicitor Davies will try to reclaim the city's down payment of $10,800 on the fact that the contract between the company and city is void as result of the court decision and possession of the payment by the company is illegal.

The present city administration, headed by Mayor H. H. Hartmann, has expressed disapproval of the purchase of a diesel unit for additional electric generating capacity.

Awards Presented

Attendance tabs were presented to the following members by Jack Nelson, chairman of the attendance committee: Albert Daniels, two years; Albert C. May, five years; Max Birnbaum, six years; Cutler McGrew, seven years and L. Otis Porter, nine years of perfect attendance.

U. A. Nystrom, president, announced that the club's charter, which had been misplaced for some time had been recovered.

The group, directed by L. G. Jones, with William Dowler at the piano, sang birthday greetings to Elandes E. Miller and Mayor Harry L. Dowler and joined in singing "Faith of Our Fathers' and "God Bless America."

The program was arranged by the citizenship committee, Harold J. Grigsby, chairman, William Coffae, Mr. Birnbaum and Common Pleas Judge Paul Smith. Guests aside from the new citizens, Mr. Bailes and the senior boys were Burley Rutter of Columbus, Jerry Ginsberg and Miss Edna S. Dutton.

In keeping with the Kiwanis club's custom of having the Junior Kiwanians from the public and parochial schools join them for the last meeting before the close of school term the following seniors also were present: John Baldauf, Robert Stuber, Tom Wagner, Dan Smith, Richard Schuler and James Moloney from St. Mary Parochial High school and James Coss, James Hill, James Rea, James Wanner, John Stuckey and Harold Patterson from Harding High school.

C. & O. Rport Shows Coal Strike Effect

CLEVELAND, May 21 — The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company today reported that owing to the recent coal strike, loadings of coal in April 1948 amounted to only 71,586 cars compared to 84,560 cars in April 1947, a decrease of 18.1 per cent. Loadings of all freight were off 12.7 per cent. April operations resulted in a net loss of $167,292 compared to net income of $1,620,182 in April last year.

Coal mining operations were resumed on a limited scale on April 13 but did not reach normal until April 22. President Robert J. Bowman stated that operating revenues are currently running at the rate of $1 million a day, and indications are that May revenues will be the largest in the history of the road, and that net earnings will be well above any previous month this year.

SKELTON FAMILY GROWS

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, May 21 — Comedian Red Skelton was a father for a second time today. His wife, Georgia, a former actress, gave birth to a seven-pound boy shortly before midnight at St. John's hospital in nearby Santa Monica. The Skeltons have a one-year-old daughter.

CONG. SMITH SPEAKS AGAINST MUNDT BILL

Says It Gives False Sense of Security.

Cong. Frederick C. Smith of Marion told the house Wednesday during debate on the Mundt bill that the bill does not touch the real cause of Communism and if enacted into law will give the people a "false sense of security against Communism according to a news report received today from Washington.

"There is no room for communism in a healthy economy," declared Cong. Smith, "and to check communism in the United States take politics and politicians out of business, drastically reduce the number of persons on the federal payroll, sharply curtail all expenditures not absolutely essential to our national security and the functioning of true government, and returning to the producers of the nation their gold. Then communism will not be a threat to the nation."

The American people have been greatly fooled by passage of laws to suppress communism and subversive activities, the congressman declared. He said that if the existing laws "which have not been enforced" were enforced they would accomplish all that the proponents allege the Mundt bill will do.

Mr. Smith said congress about a year ago appropriated between 10 and 11 million dollars to rid the federal payroll of Communists but, he added, "the number of persons discharged from government service or who left because of that law is too small to mention. The security against communism which was promised by the proponents of that law failed to materialize."

The congressman then referred to the recent refusal of congress to put the state department in direct charge of the Marshall plan" as "an excellent illustration of the utter futility" of trying to suppress communism through laws. He said congress set up the machinery for cooperation administration to administer the Marshall plan because of the "Communistic-minded persons" in the state department.

The real remedy for communism, the congressman said, is to restore the nation's economic health and "vital also to the national security and general welfare of our people is the adoption of a policy that gives primary consideration to the interests of the United States of America instead of the rest of the world."

The Mundt bill is primarily designed to garner votes rather than to get at the real cause of communism, the congressman declared.

Fire Causes $3,000 Loss To House, Furniture

A fire at 206 Wallace street at 10:18 last night resulted in an estimated $3,000 loss to stored furniture and a house owned by Edith Anderson, Fire Chief Owen Sifritt reported today.

Cause for the blaze was undetermined, but it was thought to have originated in the dining room. Furniture stored in two downstairs rooms and one upstairs was scorched beyond use, and holes were burned in the dining room flooring and ceiling.

Neighbors discovered the flames. Firemen from Central and Mark street stations responded.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 21—Stocks swept forward on a broad front in today's market.

The high-speed quotation ticker fell behind floor transactions for a short period in the first hour, as an accumulation of overnight buying orders was cleared. This brought transfers of blocks of as much as 5,000 shares.

Despite the speed of the move, gains generally were limited to a range of fractions to around a point. Leadership came from some of the rails, rubbers and steels.

Another Dividend payment, another 3 points. Others about included Sperley, National Dairy, U. S. Steel, Result Steel, Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Pennsylvania Railroad, Sinclair Oil (open lots on a 5,000 share transfer), Texas Co., Ohio Oil, Corp., General Motors, Consolidated Oil, Curtiss-Wright, National Cash, General Electric and Western Union.

"Lie," Charges Union's Head

Johnston of Rail Group Denies He's Strikebrowser of Brotherhood Hotel.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 21—Alvanley Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, today termed as "a malicious lie" a statement he is advertising for new employes to break a strike in a Cleveland hotel owned by the brotherhood.

Johnston hit back at his critics by saying he doesn't know what the strikers want. He said he thinks they are "just trying to take advantage of what I'm up against here" in efforts to reach a settlement with railroad employes.

The accusation of strike-breaking against Johnston was made in a Cleveland speech yesterday by William Finegan, secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor (AFL). Thirty-two maids and elevator operators, members of the AFL building service union, have been on strike for five days at the Park Lane villa.

The strikers want, said Cleveland they want a pay increase for [illegible] a union shop that would require all employes to join the union.

AFL Publication Accuses Johnston

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 21—The Cleveland Citizen, official AFL publication, accused Alvanley Johnston today of employing "back-door tactics" in breaking a strike at the swanky Park Lane villa.

Johnston is head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, one of three unions currently in a wage and working rules dispute with the nation's railroads. His union owns the swank, 500-room Park Lane villa, where some 22 AFL elevator operators and maids are striking for retroactive pay and a union shop.

In a front page article in today's Citizen, reporter Warren Greenwald wrote:

"Johnston, who has 'not been in' to representatives of the (striking) building service employes' union, attempted to hold a secret meeting with (M. E.) Wilbur (Park Lane manager) early this week.

"Johnston drove into the parking lot in the rear of the villa and was met there by Wilbur, who left the hotel by the rear door. The two of them spotted by business agents Al Fisher and John Lavelle.

"The union officials approached Johnston's car from two sides. Before they could reach the car, they were noticed. Wilbur scurried back to the sanctuary of the villa, and Johnston drove away.

"Why Johnston is employing such back-door tactics is not known, unless it is because as a union man he refused to cross a picket line, which he as an employer has caused."

Johnston already has been accused of "trying to break a strike."

MARION MENTIONED IN SAFETY CONTEST

Wins Honor Rating; Mansfield First in Class.

Marion received honorable mention for reducing traffic deaths in the 1947 Traffic Safety Contest, results of which were announced today by Highway Director Earl L. Reeb. Mansfield was winner of the contest for cities of 25,000 to 50,000 population, while Portsmouth ranked second, The Associated Press reported.

Marysville won a citation for having gone four years without a traffic death while Bucyrus and Crestline each received honorable mention for having no traffic deaths in 1947.

First place winners in the contest by population were:

250,00 and over — Cleveland; 100,000 to 250,000—Dayton; 50,000 to 100,000—Lakewood; 25,000 to 50,000—Mansfield; 10,000 to 25,000—Coshocton; 5,000 to 10,000—North College Hill; 4,000 to 5,000—Port Clinton.

Reeb said the cities were judged on a point system, recognizing credit for the traffic death record, traffic engineering, accident reporting and record-keeping, traffic law enforcement, child safety and public safety education.

Rotarians Elect At Rio Convention

By The Associated Press

RIO DE JANIERO, May 21—Delegates to the International Rotary convention here wound up their work last night with the election of officers.

Charles G. Tennent, of Ashville N. C., was elected first vice president of the world organization and a member of the board of directors. Two others from the United States also were named directors.

Angus S Mitchell, of Melbourne, Australia, was installed as international president, succeeding S Kendrick Guernsey of Jacksonville, Fla.

R T. Lewis attended the Rio de Janeiro meeting as representative of the Marion Rotary club. Mrs. Lewis accompanied him on the trip to Rio.

Runaway Locomotive Hits Zanesville Building

By The Associated Press

ZANESVILLE, O., May 21 — A runaway freight locomotive jumped a spur track today and ploughed into a one-story brick building of the Oil Well Supply Co. No one was injured.

E. Cardi, a Pennsylvania railroad employe, was taking the engine out of a roundhouse in the central part of town when he discovered the airbrakes had failed.

As the locomotive picked up speed on an incline, Cardi jumped off. The engine rolled 400 yards before hitting a cinder barrier.

The company estimated damage to its building at $5,000.

Franklin Co. Prepares To Extradite Prisoner

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, May 21—Franklin county authorities moved swiftly today in an attempt to gain custody of 37-year-old Homer Jack Dean, who was indicted here yesterday for first degree murder.

Dean now is held in Cabell county jail at Huntington, W. Va., on a forgery count. He is accused of slaying Elmo C. Rice, suburban real estate dealer, last Dec. 10.

Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett said extradition papers, asking West Virginia to release Dean for prosecution in Ohio, will be sent to West Virginia as soon as they are signed.

Dean was indicted on two counts in the Rice slaying: murder while attempting a robbery and premeditated murder.

MAN FOUND ALONG ROAD

Charles D. Irwin, 79, of Mt. Gilead was picked up by sheriff's deputies Wednesday night when they found him lost and wandering along the highway at Waldo. A call to Mt. Gilead authorities established his identity and local officers drove him to his home.

PLEASED OVER MUNDT BILL VOTE. Anti-Communist Mundt-Nixon bill leaders look pleased after the bill's passage by a lopsided vote in the House: from left, Republican Reps. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, John McDowell of Pennsylvania Richard M. Nixon of California, Richard B. Vail of Illinois. The bill calls for submission of financial statement by Communist organizations, and makes it a felony to seek to set up a foreign-controlled dictatorship in the United States. Now the bill is in the Senate, its further passage uncertain. (International Soundphoto)

Columbus Police Seek Left-Handed Bandit

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, O., May 21—Columbus police searched today for a one-handed bandit who wouldn't settle for 10 dollars.

He walked into the Commonwealth Loan Co. in downtown Columbus Thursday afternoon and presented Mrs. Helen W. Carter, assistant manager with a note saying, "Keep your mouth shut and you will not get hurt, for this is a holdup."

Mrs. Carter handed him $10, but he said:

"No, I want it all."

Brandishing a gun in his left hand he scooped about $140 more from the open safe and left the office. His final command was: "Stay there 20 minutes or I'll kill you."

SCHOOL PATROLS TO BE GALION AUTO CLUB GUESTS

Special to The Star

GALION, May 21—On Saturday afternoon, 140 members of the School Patrol of the Galion public and parochial schools and the Mt. Gilead schools will be guests of the Galion Automobile club, sponsor of the patrol. This is an annual party given to patrol members as a reward for their efforts in safeguarding the lives of their schoolmates at street corners in school zones during the school year. The Galion Automobile club during the years furnished safety lessons, posters, badges, belts and raincoats for patrol members.

The patrol in Galion has an enviable record, with no accidents to any patrol while on duty at school zone where the patrol been on duty.

Palestine Mediator In Slim Try for Peace

By The Associated Press

STOCKHOLM, May 21—Count Folke Bernadotte, chosen United Nations mediator for Palestine, said today there was one chance in a hundred of success, but that the chance must be taken.

Count Bernadotte, head of the Swedish Red Cross, said he expected to telephone Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations, some time today to confer. He said he wants to work out details of the mission, what assistants he will have and if he can be back in Stockholm for a Red Cross conference in August.

He said he is prepared to go for Palestine at an early date.

Barberton Lady Lost 38 Lbs. Without Dieting

Mrs K Fish 579 Van St., Barberton, Ohio writes, "When I started using Rennel I weighed 193 pounds. I now weigh 155 pounds and have lost that sluggish tired out feeling which I had for sometime. Since using Rennel all of my friends praise the difference in my appearance and my sister is also using it since seeing what it has done for me."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Why not try this effective yet inexpensive method of reducing and enjoy the pleasures of feeling younger and more alive. Try Rennel and notice the admiring looks you will receive from your friends as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle and then take two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If you aren't satisfied with the results return the empty bottle to the manufacturer and your money will be refunded. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to force you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on the genuine Rennel.

"Where did you hear that speech?" he asked. "I can't believe you made that up yourself."

"No, I didn't," Faith said, "but I can so make one up just as good."

"I don't doubt that a bit," her father assured her. "After awhile I'd like to listen to some of them. But just now I want to know where you picked up this gem you've just handed me."

Faith giggled convulsively.

"You're so funny," she told him. "And I didn't hand you any gem. I just told you what the girls said about Cousin Olina."

"All right, all right," Dicky said a bit testily. "What girls do you mean?"

"Why the girls at nursery school," Faith answered quickly. "You know you or Mummy used always to take me to school. Then Cousin Mary came home sick, and you had to stay here, and Cousin Olina took me. The girls all thought she was awful pretty, and they asked who was her husband. I told them she didn't have any husband, and then they said she'd better hurry up and get one, and said the rest I told you. So you see I'd like to know if she's going to marry this Don Kee-o-ti. That's an awful funny name for a man, Daddy. Are you sure you've got it right?"

Dicky lifted her, and cuddled her closely against him.

"Yes, I'm sure I have it right," he said, "and I'm going to tell you all about it now. It's a very nice story, and I'm surprised Mummy hasn't told you about it before this."

"You'd better stop stalling, and hand the job over to Madge," Harry Underwood said. "It will be accurately told, then."

"If you'd exercise your jaw less, and your ears more, you might learn something in your old age," Dicky rejoined, and Faith giggled.

"Say some more funny things," she pleaded. "I can wait for the story."

"No, darling," her father told her, "we musn't wait any longer for the story. You see this man, Don Quixote, was always going up and down the country, tilting at windmills, and trying to set things right for people."

Faith wriggled down from her father's lap, threw up her hands, and did a joyous little dance step.

"I have so heard that name before," she said, "but I never heard the story. But I heard Mummy say one time that Cousin Georges was a regular Don Kee-o-ti. But he's gone a long ways off. He can't be getting married."

86 SENIORS GRADUATE AT UPPER SANDUSKY

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, May 21—Eighty-six young men and women of Upper Sandusky have their diplomas today following their graduation from Upper Sandusky High school. The impressive commencement event was held in Union school auditorium Wednesday night, when the chief speaker was Dr. Clyde Hissong, state superintendent of instruction. Dr. Hissong spoke to more than 1,000 persons on "The World in Your Hand."

To the accompaniment of "March Classique" by the orchestra, the seniors marched to the platform, led by L. H. Houpt, high school principal. The orchestra furnished music during interludes of the program. Miss Anna Jane Ellis, salutatorian, and Miss Josephine Gibson, valedictorian, gave their addresses. Charles E. Davis, schools superintendent, introduced Dr. Hissong.

Miss Gibson and Miss Ellis, honor graduates with the class of '48, have been awarded $400 scholarships to Capital university in Columbus. Others also received awards.

Mr. Houpt was assisted in the presentation of the diplomas by Paul W. Ayers, president of the board of education.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

HOW easy would it be to give away atomic secrets?

It wouldn't be easy, says Dr. Edward U. Condon, one of the country's top scientists and head of the U. S. bureau of standards.

Condon has been smeared by the house un-American activities committee of being one of the "weakest links" in our atomic security.

But the scientists, whose bureau handles some atomic work, says of himself that he is "absolutely reliable." More of this later.

It would be easy, Condon says, for anyone wishing to betray this country to tell a spy we're working on some certain kind of atomic project.

For example: James Marlow a spy might be able to learn that the U. S. is working on a super-super atomic bomb.

But—giving away the details of that project is something altogether different. This is what Condon says:

"The amount of essential detail—even with regard to principles and especially with regard to specific designs—that inheres in any modern scientific military device is fantastically great.

"To give away such secrets one would have to transfer vast quantities of drawings and documents. Even those are usually so unclear without explanation that the receiver would need to be given a special course of instruction in their meaning.

"EVEN THIS, TO BE really effective, requires the receiver to be a man of high scientific and technical training. * * *

"I feel sorry for any modern Mata Hari who might be assigned to get the secret of the atomic bomb by working her wiles on a young army sergeant."

In short, Condon says it is extremely difficult to give away scientific secrets, for several reasons:

1. The mere principles of modern scientific military developments are extraordinarily complicated.

2. The really valuable working designs are even more detailed.

3. An ordinary, flat-foot spy wouldn't be able to understand them. A scientist would be needed to understand the documents.

Condon said all this last night in an address before the Washington Academy of Sciences.

IT WAS A LENGTHY TALK in which Condon stressed the need for secrecy but spoke out against strangling scientists in their work or playing up spy scares.

The house un-American activities committee jumped on Condon several months ago.

It accused him of having associated—knowingly or unknowingly—with an alleged Soviet spy.

The FBI had investigated Condon before this attack by the committee. It had turned over its report to the commerce department, under which the bureau of standards operates.

The commerce department officials considered Condon okay. But the house committee demanded to see the FBI report. The department refused.

Condon himself called for an investigation to end what he called "public smears" of scientists inside and outside government.

The atomic energy commission told congress Condon had no access to top atomic secrets. The house committee still demanded the FBI report.

Finally, the commerce department turned the FBI report on Condon over to President Truman. The committee couldn't get it from him.

Then Condon publicly asked the President to let the committee have the report. So far Mr. Truman has shown no sign of doing so.

Lecturer Appears Under Auspices of Friends Group.

Relationship and dealings of the United States and Russia in the perspective of "What Does God Want Us to Do About Russia?" was the subject of messages by Dr. Kirby Page of LaHabra, Calif., author, lecturer and world religious leader, to two Marion audiences Wednesday. He was in Marion through courtesy of the American Friends Service committee, which has done much rehabilitation work in wartorn countries. At the Wednesday Noon Bible class luncheon meeting at the YMCA his subject was "How to Stop the Drift Toward War," and at a special night meeting at Wesley Methodist church, sponsored by the social action committee of the Marion County Council of Churches, his message was based on the conception of the attitude of Christian peoples toward the world situation.

He declared that it is "supremely important" for Christian people to see both the United States and Russia as God sees them. Maintaining that "of one thing we can be absolutely sure . . . God wants us to stop the armament race," he called further development of armaments "suicidal." He pointed out that "the terrible weapons which we now have are only weapons of attack and not of defense," naming "block busters which combine terriffic explosive power with unquenchable fire, atomic bombs, and biological weapons which will kill growing crops, and destroy animal and human life, weapons which no nation can survive."

To Christians, he said, "the chief matter is that because of use of such weapons, whole populations cannot be reconciled with the will of God. War is supremely sin." He urged that the way to peace is by "international agreement," and putting into the hands of United Nations for rebuilding the wartorn world three hundred billions of dollars which the nations would spend in the next ten years on armaments."

P.-T.A. ENDS SEASON

The last meeting of the Oak Street P.-T.A. for the school year was held Tuesday night at the school with Mrs. Clifford Irey, retiring president, in charge. Devotions were by Mrs. Irwin Jobe. The incoming president, Mrs. Charles Keck, presented Mrs. Irey with her past president's pin. Included on a program were music by the Girls' ensemble of Harding High school, followed by travel pictures shown by Harold Carroll. Refreshments were in charge of first and second grade groups. The room count was won by Mrs. Don Hentze's second grade.

Kitchen Shower for Bride

BROWNIES . . Delicious party dessert.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you have a shower for a June bride or your party list there are lots of nice eating ways you can vary the provincial entertaining. When a young friend of mine married recently I gave her a kitchen towel shower which was lots of fun. About a dozen friends came for supper and the bride-to-be got a most attractive and practical assortment of dish towels. I like the one I found for her—it had a recipe printed on it.

If you want ideas for showers there are two good books on the subject. One is called 'The Cokesbury Shower Book' by Katherine Fite and Garland Clawson Paine, published by the Abingdon-Cokesbury Press, New York and Nashville. The other is 'Showers for Brides and Babies' by Nine L. and Eugene V. Pond, published by the Medford Publishing Company, Medford, Okla.

Another fine kind of party to give a bride is a cookbook shower. The hostess might start off by giving the guest of honor a copy of the recent "Cookbook for Brides" by Dorothy Malone published by A. A. Wyn, Inc., New York. Although in my estimation the perfect cookbook for brides has not yet been written there are lots of good things about this one. The author adds her own personal comments throughout the book which will not only be of practical help to the new housekeeper but will give her much-needed moral support.

Here is a recipe for a canape or sandwich spread from Miss Malone's book which you might like to serve at a shower.

Snappy Canape Spread

Three-fourths pound American cheese, 1 tablespoon grated onion, ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg, ⅛ teaspoon allspice, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, dash of cayenne pepper, or ⅛ teaspoon, ¼ cup mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons thick sweet cream, 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Either put the cheese through the food chopper, or crumble it to bits and then mash it fine with a good strong fork. Add all of the rest of the ingredients in order, blending thoroughly. When you've finished you ought to have a creamy spread just stiff enough to hold its shape. The flavor, you will find, will be superb. Again, you can toast the crackers, or if that seems like too much work on the eve of entertaining, spread it on ready-made toast, or plain saltines, and you can feed a multitude. This is an inexpensive spread which is not only good for about 50 canapes, but makes a wonderful sandwich filling. This mixture can also be used to stuff table celery. Top the stuffing with a whole pecan.

And here is another recipe from a test kitchen devoted to perfecting chocolate recipes, for a delicious shower dessert.

Brownies

One-half cup sifted enriched all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 package semi-sweet chocolate bits, ½ cup butter or fortified margarine, two eggs well beaten, 1 3/3 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup walnut meats, chopped.

Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Melt chocolate and butter or margarine over hot water. Beat eggs slightly, add sugar and vanilla and beat until very thick and light colored. This will take from 5 to 10 minutes. Add dry ingredients to egg mixture and blend. Stir in melted chocolate mixture which has been cooled. Add nuts and mix thoroughly. Pour into greased 8 or 9-inch square pan. Bake in moderately hot (375°F.) oven about 30 minutes or until done. Cut in 9 or 12 large squares. Serve topped with vanilla ice cream and chocolate syrup.

Chocolate Syrup

One package semi-sweet chocolate bits, ½ can sugar, 1 cup hot water, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Melt chocolate over hot water and stir until smooth. Add sugar, hot water and salt and blend well. Place over direct heat and boil 4 minutes. Makes 2 cups syrup. Store in refrigerator.

CUBS OPEN HOME STAND BY SLAUGHTERING NEWARK 20-

Yank Pilot Bob Dill Homers To Ruin Ramon Peet's Shutout

The Marion Cubs started out their lengthy 13-game home stand with a bang last night clubbing 18 hits off a pair of Newark Yankee hurlers in winning, 20 to 1.

That one run that kept pitcher Ramon Peet from notching a shutout in winning his second game of the season was a four-base blast by Newark Manager Bob Dill in the fourth inning.

Nearly all of the Cubs got into the hit column, Bill Bolduc, Bob Shuford, Lou Castrovince and Schnepf collecting three apiece.

Shuford drove in five runs and Schnepf four.

The only Marions out of the act were Bob Bracken, who went hitless in two trips, Lee Bohlander, the club's most consistent hitter, who failed in three trips, and Jim Kyker, who flied out once, ground out once and walked four times.

Errorless Ball

The Cubs played errorless ball and made three double plays, the most they've made in one game yet this season.

Peet gave up seven scattered hits in winning his second game. He struck out 12 with his fast-breaking curve and fast ball.

Three times he wilted Yankee batters on a three-two pitch.

He walked seven men, and found himself with two men on in four innings, but bore down to get himself out of trouble every time.

The Cubs, who have been looking for a pitcher they could count on the way Cleveland counts on Feller, may have found the man in the 18-year-old right-hander from Ashtabula, Ohio. He is the only hurler who has looked good in every game he's pitched in. His record now stands at two and one.

The Cubs counted in every frame but the seventh when relief hurler Dick McEvoy set them down one-two-three after replacing starter Ray Loiselle, who had given up 15 hits and 18 runs in the first six innings.

The Cubs got to McEvoy for three hits and two runs in the eighth.

Going into the fourth frame in the lead five to one, the Cubs exploded for a six-hit, seven run uprising.

Leadoff batter Tom Gatts got one of his two singles of the inning, a Texas leaguer to left field. Tony Mislovich singled, Bill Bolduc doubled Gatts home, and Lee Bohlander was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases.

Big Bob Shuford stepped up to the plate, amid cheers by the crowd, who were glad to see last year's right fielder back.

Shuford, who was intentionally passed in the first inning, justified the crowd's faith in him by laying one over second base that drove in two more runs. His one-base knock was the hardest hit grounder in Lincoln park this year.

Castrovince plated Bohlander and Shuford with a double, and Schnepf grounded out for the first out of the frame.

Kyker walked, Peet flied out, and Gatts singled Kyker home before Mislovich grounded out to first ending the onslaught.

The Bruins counted two more runs in the fifth off three hits and four in the sixth off three hits and a pair of errors.

A short, impressive service in memory of catcher Bob Osgood, who died of a heart attack at Richmond, Ind., last week, was held immediately before the game. Rev. Howard L. Olewiler read a prayer as the two teams stood facing the grandstand.

Scout Sees Game

Ram Primm, former Chicago Cub pitcher and now a scout for the organization, attended the game. He'll be in Marion for several days and has been with the club for the last four encounters.

The Cubs will meet the Yankees again tonight. Lefty Frank Marchelli, who has a 1-0 record, will probably be on the mound for Marion. Manager Bob Dill, whose mound staff is beset with injuries, hasn't picked a starter for tonight.

STREAMLINED harness racing will be introduced to central Ohio, says the Columbus Trotting association, when it opens its inaugural nocturnal meeting at Hilliard June 12. They've got a new starting gate they claim will eliminate long and tedious warming. The horses enter the track, preliminary scores they parade, parade to the post, and after their around the track line-up and approach the gate. They immediately start moving toward the starting post and they're on their way.

Instead of the usual two or three heats, Hilliards will have new horses in every race in the eight or nine-dash program each evening. The meeting lasts until July 3, when the harness ensemble will move to Marion.

* * *

NO PAUSE for refreshments will be allowed the troupe of cyclists who will pass through Marion sometime Sunday morning on their way to Shelby from Columbus in the state Olympic bicycle elimination race. The rules prohibit the pedal pushers from accepting any food or liquid during the race except that they carry themselves. They can't accept any help in fixing a flat, either, and they have to lug their repair kits with them. An additional 20 or 30 entries are expected to join the 19 already accepted in the Olympic qualifier. The racers will begin in Columbus Sunday morning and pass through Delaware, Marion, Bucyrus, Galion, Crestline, Shelby, Ashland, Mansfield, and then to Shelby again for the finish, expected about 3 p. m. The race is being sponsored by the Shelby Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Shelby Cycle Co.

Skip Alexander Leads PGA Field

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, May 21 — Big Stewart (Skip) Alexander, who qualified with a record-tying 134, led the field today into first round matches of the Professional Golfers Association tournament.

Alexander, playing in his first PGA meet, yesterday equalled the PGA record set by Jim Ferrier at Portland, Ore., two years ago.

Sixty-four players, the best in a starting field of 130, match shots in 32 duels of 18 holes this morning. The winners will play another 18 holes this afternoon to determine the 16 third-round players.

Alexander's seven-under-par play yesterday gave him a round of 32-32—64 over the 6,857-yard Norwood Hills country club course. He had a 70 in the first qualifying round.

Indians Get 18 Walks In Defeating Red Sox, 13-4

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 20—The Cleveland Indians were the hottest club in the American league today, while Joe McCarthy of the Boston Red Sox probably was the hottest manager—under the collar.

Marse Joe's pitchers haven't been pitching and his hitters haven't been hitting. Last night his pitchers couldn't even find the plate as the Indians benefited from 18 bases on balls while posting a 13 to 4 victory.

Boston southpaws Mickey Harris and Maurice McDermott turned in one of the wildest exhibitions ever seen in organized baseball. The total number of free passes by the Indians tied the American league record set by the Detroit Tigers in a game with the Philadelphia Athletics back in 1916.

Harris gave up seven walks in one and one-third innings he lasted, while McDermott contributed the other 11. All this from a club that last year was at the bottom of the league in the bases on balls column.

Every man in the Cleveland lineup except Jim Hegan walked at least twice.

And every man in the Indians' lineup scored at least once in a game which marked their largest run production of the season.

Manager Lou Boudreau clouted a home run over the left field fence in the fifth, his third of the season and 37th for the team in 22 games.

Victory in the walk-athon went to Bob Lemon, his fourth triumph against two reverses. He gave the Sox a pair of runs in the third and another set of two in the fourth, but allowed only two hits in the last five frames.

The Indians also notched their fourth straight triumph and increased their league lead over the faltering Philadelphia Athletics to a game and a half.

Boston hasn't defeated Cleveland this season.

The two clubs tangle again today, with rookie Bill Kennedy hurling for the Tribe and Joe Dobson on the mound for the Sox.

Last night's crowd of 43,158 boosted the Indians paid season attendance to 359,435 for eight home playing dates.

KUNKLE STINGY AS HUBER WINS

Jim Kunkle of the Cooler softball team limited Huber to one hit as his mates collected six in downing the Hubs 8 to 0 in the opening game in Industrial league No. 1 at Garfield last night.

Two other games in the league ended with Fairfield Engineers defeating Pollak, 6-4, and Marion Power Shovel dumping Commercial, 7-4.

Kunkle, in pitching his shutout, was denied a no hitter by Huber's Anderson who connected for a double. He fanned three. Highlight of the Fairfield win over Pollak was a homer by Mohr with one on in the fifth and another by Geyer with none on in the same inning.

M.P.S won their contest in a big fourth inning when six runners crossed the plate and Sloat and Hartley blasted four baggers.

Church loop teams, rained out Monday, will open tonight with Greenwood vs. St. Mary No. 1 at Garfield; Epworth vs. St. Mary No. 2 at McKinley; Trinity vs. Forest Lawn at Eagles; and F.C.B. vs. Oakland at Harding. All games start at 6:15.

Schwemley, Cripps Team Up To Win

Paul Schwemley and Robert Cripps shot 88 gross scores in a two-man low aggregate tournament at the Marion Country club Wednesday to place first in the tournament. Each had 18 stroke handicaps in posting 70 net scores for a total of 140.

John Waddell and Dr. R. Morgan had an aggregate of 151 on scores of 96-17—79 and 95-23—72, respectively. J. B. Bray shot 86-12—74 and his partner, H. W. Freck 83-16—77 as they tied for second with 151 also.

Low gross scores were made by Barney Buettin, 40-42—82, H. W. Freck, 42-41—83 and Carl Danner, 42-41—83. Saturday's golf will be a lowest 12-net-holes event in A, B, and C classes.

Ball Game Ticket Conte Extended To Tuesday Noo

The drive for closing out the Booster ticket sales contest after conferring with Herald St. Mary officials, granted a few more days would be necessary to a lag in sales in schools caused by end of year activity.

BAGBY WINS 8TH FOR INDIANAPOLIS

By The Associated Press

If the Indianapolis Indians should pull ahead to capture their first American Association pennant in more than 20 years don't forget to toss a few bouquets to Jim Bagby, the league's winningest pitcher.

The second-place Indians gained a half game on league leading St. Paul last night by whipping Toledo 8 to 1. They now trail the Saints by only two games. In the only other Association game yesterday, Columbus downed Louisville 8 to 4.

Bagby, a crafty vet, the Mud Hens was his eighth win of the season against one defeat. Pat McGlothlin of St. Paul has won the fewest games (eight) Bagby.

Bagby, former Tulane leaguer allowed Toledo only four hits struck out three and issued no walks.

At Columbus, Jack Cilmian weathered a three-run first inning assault by Louisville and went on to pitch his mates to a fairly easy triumph. He allowed four hits in the opening frame but settled down and held the Colonels to four hits in the next eight innings.

The Indians profitted by the generosity of southpaws Mickey Harris and Maurice McDermott who tied the major league record by walking 13 men.

Ration Hits

Freddie Hutchinson rationed the slumping A's to five hits while Detroit banged Carl Scheib, Boo Savage and Charley Harris for 15 blows.

With Joe DiMaggio enjoying a field day the New York Yankees gave the Chicago White Sox their daily whipping, 15-2. DiMag hit two homers, a triple, double and single for five hits in six trips driving in six runs.

The St. Louis Browns hopped all over Washington for a 17-7 night verdict to move into fifth place passing both the Senators and Red Sox. It was the highest run total of the year in the league.

HOWIE FOX WINS FOR CINCINNATI

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, May 21—Cincinnati's hopes of moving out of the National league cellar have been given a boost through the showing of big Howie Fox who finally came through with a mound victory.

The six-foot three-inch right-hander, counted on by Reckey Manager Johnny Neun as a principal starter, turned back the New York Giants, 3-1, at the Polo Grounds yesterday for his first win of the season. He had failed to finish on four previous outings.

With his teammates playing errorless ball behind him, Fox displayed the form which netted him several victories over major league competition during the training season.

He set the hard-hitting Giants down with six hits, three of which they bunched in the fourth inning for their only marker.

The Reds got away to a fast start, scoring their first marker in the second frame on a pass and singles by shortstop Virgil Stallcup and catcher Ray Lamanno.

Fox pitched perfect ball for three and two-thirds innings, Bob Thomson connecting for the Giants first hit in the fourth. The Giants' centerfielder moved to third on a single by Johnny Mize and scored the New Yorkers only run a minute later on Buddy Kerr's infield hit.

The Rhinelanders routed back in the fifth with two runs on a single by Fox, a pass, a fielder's choice and Johnny Wyrostek's two run double.

The Reds meet the Phillies here today in the opener of a two-game set with Herman Wehmeier on the mound opposing the Philadelphia rookie, Curt Simmons.

GIANTS CUT MUNCIE'S LEAD TO ONE GAME

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O. May 21 — League-leading Muncie clung to a single game margin over second-place Springfield after the Giants had clubbed the leaders 12-2 in last night's wild play in the Ohio-Indiana league.

Zanesville charged into the first division with an 8-6 win over Lima while Portsmouth was dropping Richmond to fifth place with a 5-4, 11-inning triumph.

Marion snowed Newark, 20-1 in the most raucous contest of the evening.

For sheer fun, however, the ninth inning of the Zanesville-Lima game took the prize. Here's how that fantastic frame finished:

One Zanesville man was out and runners were on second and third in the top half of the ninth. Lima led, 6-4. A Zanesville hitter popped short to left field, where the shortstop took the ball handily.

By some footwork, the man on third scored after the catch and the optimistic man on second, shortstop Meyers, chugged away for third.

The third baseman, Art Davidson of Lima, missed the throw and then decided to lie on the runner until some agile mate caught up with the bounding ball.

After some no-decision wrestling, Zanesville Manager Ray Hathaway came running out, picked Meyers up, set him on his feet and gave him a shove toward home. Meyers scored and the marker was allowed after some palaver.

Base Umpire Bob Anelich got into the ninth inning act after the count was knotted 6-all. With two more men on base, Zanesville's Frank Hilbert doubled. He loafed going to second, however, and Lima apparently tagged him out as he came into second standing. Unfortunately, umpire Anelich seemed to be watching the scoring runners. So, when he turned and saw Hilbert on the base, he called him safe.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS AFTER STATE TITLES

Buckeye Sports Event Opens at OSU Today.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 21—Ohio's high school athletes will be off and running today in quest of state championships in a two-day four-ply spring sports program at Ohio State university.

Buckeye titles in track, golf and tennis will be decided by Saturday sundown, and the baseball laurels will be alloted the following weekend.

Today's schedule called for opening rounds in the 36-hole team and individual golf tournament, first round matches in the doubles and singles tennis play, and preliminary qualifiers in six class A and six class B track events.

Cleveland Central is expected to have tough opposition from Springfield's well-rounded Wildcats in the race for the class A cinder crown won a year ago by the Clevelanders, while defending champion Poland, Lockland and Harbor are expected to fight it out for the class B title.

All finals in the track-filled show, the No. 1 attraction, are scheduled Saturday. Preliminaries, paring the field down to championship size, were booked today in the 120 and 220-yard hurdles, the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes, and the half-mile relay, in both class A and class B. The first three finishers in each event in district meets are eligible for state finals berths, and the preliminary heats were necessary to clash the huge field.

About 1,000 boys will be in action in the four-sport program in which the 21st baseball, 22nd golf, 29th tennis and 41st annual track titles will be decided.

Minor Ball Clubs Set To Fight Television

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 21—The nation's minor baseball leagues are getting ready to do battle against television—if it brings major league games into minor league territory.

Frank C. Lane president of the American Association, said a committee of which he is chairman would propose at an St. Louis minor league meeting July 13 that "telecasting or televising by stations within 100 miles of a minor league city" be banned.

Other committee members are Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International league, and Jake Flowers, head of the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association.

President George M. Trautman of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues (minor) named the committee a month ago.

Sports Chatter On This and That

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., May 21—June may be the month of brides to some folk, but around the Buckeye realm it'll be the month of birdies and bogies. The state Seniors golf meet is booked June 10-11-12 at Scioto Country club in Columbus; the Women's National Intercollegiates, June 11 through June 19 at OSU; the Ohio Public Links event June 18-19-20 at Toledo Sunningdale, and the Inverness four-ball matches June 24-25-26-27 at Toledo.

LUTHER HANSHUE, former Newark High school coach now at Louisville, Ky., Male High, is the latest "hot tip" for the Hamilton job vacated by Massillon-bound Chuck Mather. Herb Cummings, Xavier freshman coach, and Harold Mouch of Hamilton Catholic have declared themselves not interested in the berth. A bit of talk is going around that Paul Schofer, Hamilton basketball coach, also headed for Massillon, may change his mind and stay with the Big Blue. If Schofer stays at Hamilton, don't be surprised if Middletown's Glenn Ellison moves to Massillon as cage coach. But our best hunch is that a boy now coaching one of Ohio's colleges will return to the scholastic field as Hamilton's head man—and the announcement may come before Monday.

PAUL E. BROWN, coach of the Cleveland Brown, makes his first public appearance here Monday night since leaving for the service in 1944. The former Ohio State mentor will speak at an Agonis club banquet at which 14 of the top student-athletes in Columbus high schools will be honored.

NEW OWNERS TAKE OVER GRID ROCKETS

By The United Press

CHICAGO, May 21—New owners took over the doormat Rockets of the All-American Football Conference today and announced they were out to boost some dough.

The Rockets, a fizzle in two years of conference competition, will be operated by the newly formed Football Club of Chicago, a group of more than 20 business, sports and public men in the Chicago area.

R. E. Gunn, Chicago investment broker and the club's executive director, said the Rockets would play "and play hard" at Soldier Field next fall. He announced that Ed McKeever, former San Francisco University coach, would be head coach "on a long-term contract."

Among the partners in the new enterprise are Hugh W. Cross, lieutenant governor of Illinois; Maj. Gen. Leo M. Boyle, adjutant general of the Illinois National Guard; Walter Butler, state senator; Frank J. Hague, vice president of the Chicago City Bank and Trust Co. and several attorneys and business executives.

ONLY 7 BEAT .300

Only seven players started the 1946 American league season with lifetime batting averages of .300 or better—and two of them are members of the Chicago White Sox. Taft Wright's seven year average at the plate is .320, while Luke Appling's lifetime mark over 17 seasons is .312. The others with their lifetime batting marks: Ted Williams .351, Joe DiMaggio .331, John Pesky .310, Barney McCosky .310, Dick Wakefield .303.

LEGAL NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals, bearing the title of the work and name of the bidder will be received by Douglas Torrance, Clerk of the Board of Education of the Marion City School District, Marion, Ohio, at the Administration Building until 12 o'clock noon Eastern Standard Time on May 28, 1948, for the rehabilitation of and the addition to the Silver Street School Building in accordance with plans and specifications as prepared by Charles W. Oborn, Architect, Marion, Ohio.

Bids will be publicly opened and read aloud at 1:00 P. M., on the 28th day of May, 1948 at the Administration Building, Marion, Ohio.

Drawings and specifications and contract documents are available for inspection at the offices of the owner and of the architect. Drawings and specifications for the personal use of contractors may be obtained from the Architect upon deposit of $25.00 for each set. A total refund will be made to all bidders upon return of said drawings and specifications within 10 days of receiving bids. No refund will be made to non-bidders or for plans received later than the time stated above. All plans and specifications must be returned to Architect within the period of 30 days.

Each bid must be submitted on blanks obtained from the Architect, and must contain the name of every person interested therein and be accompanied by a Surety Company Bid Bond, satisfactory to the Owner, or Certified Check upon some solvent bank, made payable to the Treasurer of the Board of Education, in an amount equal to 5% of the Base Bid, as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into in accordance with the general conditions of the contract and bond form on file, and the performance of the contract secured by a Surety Company Contract Bond, approved by the Owner, in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty days after the opening thereof.

The right is reserved by the Board of Education to reject any or all bids and to waive informalities.

By order of the Board of Education of the Marion City School District, Marion County, Ohio.

DOUGLAS TORRANCE, Clerk.

Standard Equipment on the NEW 1948 FERGUSON TRACTOR
Provides Traction without Built-in Weight.
When using a unit implement, its weight is carried on the tractor even when pushing it through the ground. Take, for example, a plow. The weight of the plow on the tractor, and the weight of the soil on the moldboards, plus the downward slant of the plow, add extra weight on the tractor. All of this gives added traction and eliminates the need for excess built-in weight.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Mr Truman's suggestion of a duplicate White House in every foreign capital leaves the other candidates cold In this contest no reasonable facsimiles will be accepted

* * *

The President's idea is that in an embassy designed to look like the White House, Americans abroad would feel at home Evidently no Republicans are traveling these days

* * *

But the idea of a duplicate White House in Moscow is fascinating Particularly when you think who would be on the balcony

* * *

The idea is not entirely original There is some suspicion that duplicate Kremlins have been established in many lands

* * *

But congress probably would not turn down the idea Until some fairly good junkets had come out of it

Before World War II Burma was the world's leading rice exporter

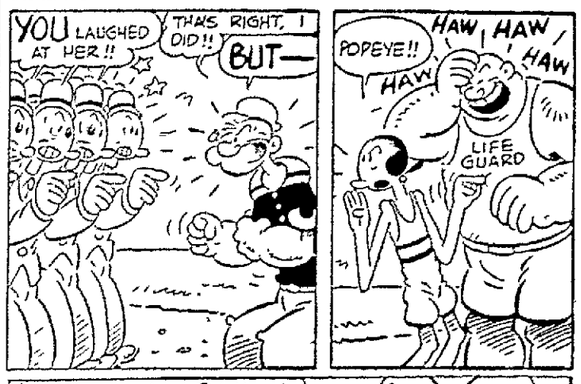
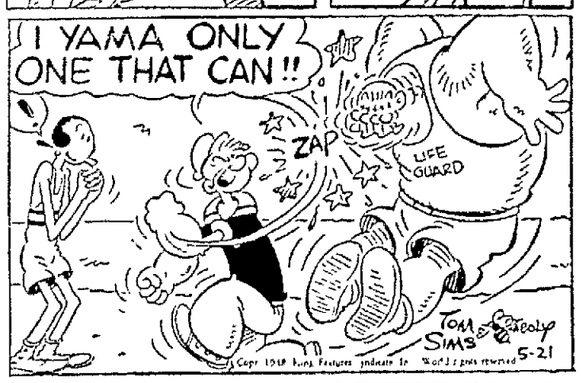
Thimble Theater





MODEST MAIDENS — By Jay Alan

"What I like about the turkey here, are the sweet potatoes!"

BRIDGE — By H. T. Webster

I ADORED THE BOOK. IT'S ABOUT A SMALL TOWN GIRL WHO FALLS IN LOVE WITH A BIG RADIO EXECUTIVE (I PASS) NAMED—OH WHAT WAS HIS NAME?
BASIL MODULATION—YES THAT'S THE NAME. (ONE NO-TRUMP) AND THE GIRL WAS ALICE TENDRIL. WELL IT SEEMS BASIL HAD AN AFFAIR WITH A TORCH SINGER YEARS BEFORE HE MET ALICE AND—
THE NIGHT BASIL PROPOSES TO ALICE (THREE CLUBS) WHO SHOULD WALK INTO THE STUDIO BUT THAT TORCH SINGER. HER NAME IS SALLY SLITHER AND SHE MAKES A TERRIBLE SCENE
SHE SAYS BASIL BELONGS TO HER AND SHE'S NOT GOING TO (FOUR CLUBS) LET ANY PLEASANT THOMSMEADOWS WALK OFF WITH HIM. ALICE IS CRUSH ED OF COURSE AND S— CIDES IS
—GO BACK TO MOOSE-MEADOWS AND NEVER SEE (FIVE CLUBS) BASIL AGAIN. WELL, JUST AS SHE IS LEAVING, IN COMES A MAN WHO SAYS SALLY SLITHER IS HIS WIFE. THEY'D BEEN MARRIED FIVE YEARS
BASIL AND ALICE PATCH THINGS UP AND— (YOU DOUBLE FIVE CLUBS?) OH, DEAR!)—JUST AS THEY'RE ABOUT TO SET THE DATE FOR THE WEDDING THE MOST AWFUL THING HAPPENS. BUT I MUSTN'T SPOIL THE STORY FOR YOU

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK — By R. J. Scott

A GROSBEAK, FEEDING HIS YOUNG EIGHT OR TEN CANKER WORMS IN EACH MOUTHFUL, WILL PULL 3,000 WORMS A DAY FROM THE FOREST'S LEAVES.
SCRAPS
A 500-FOOT SHIP MAY STRETCH AS MUCH AS A FOOT IN LENGTH WHEN LOADED WITH OIL DUE TO THE FACT THE OIL IS HEATED TO 125 DEGREES TO MAKE IT FLOW EASILY.
WHAT IS THE LARGEST SINGLE SOURCE OF AMERICAN FARM INCOME?
MILK.
ICE CREAM WAS FIRST MADE BY THE CHINESE.
MARCO POLO GOT THE RECIPE FOR MAKING ICE CREAM FROM KUBLAI KHAN IN THE 13TH CENTURY.

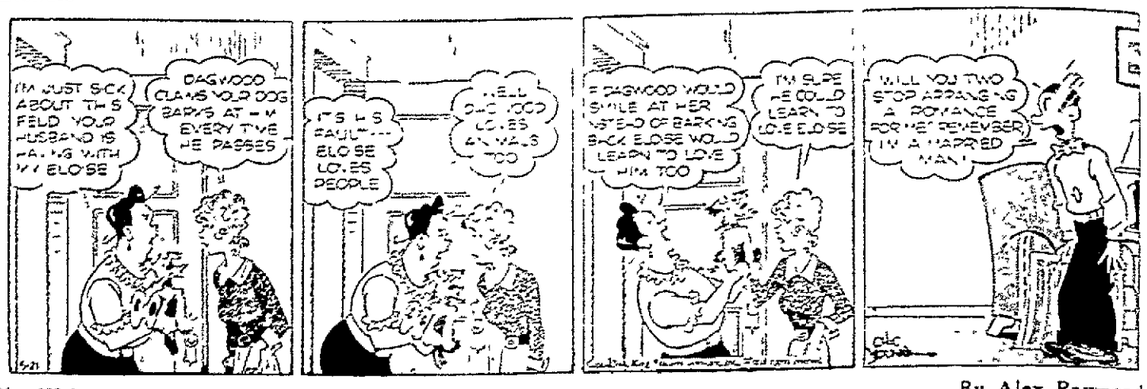
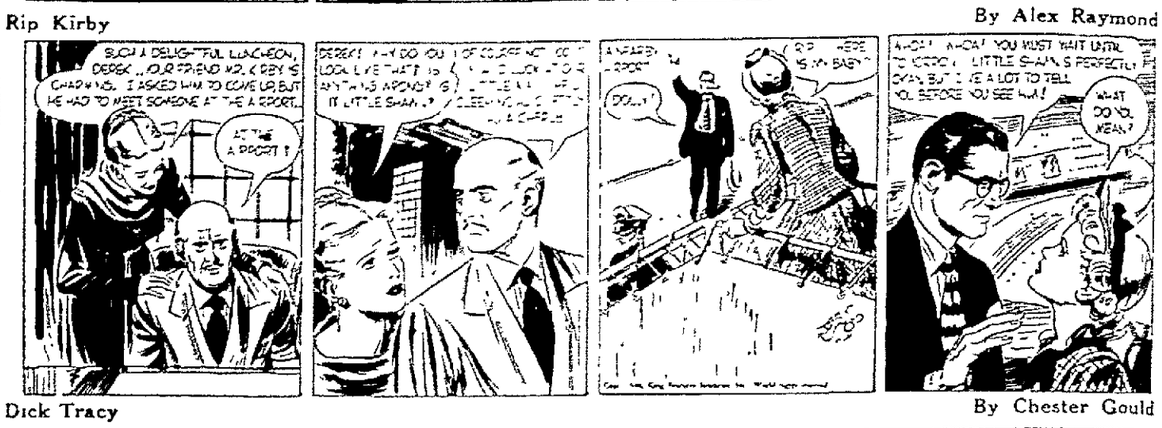
Blondie — By Chic Young



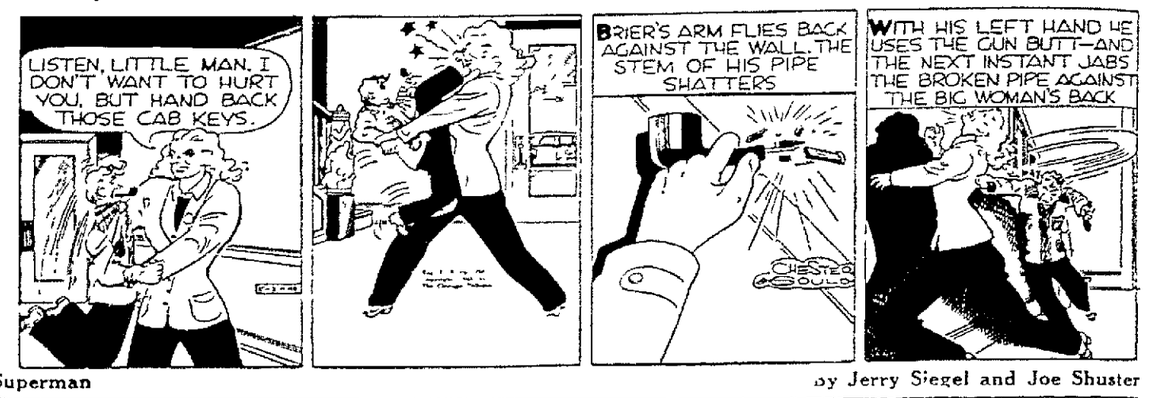
I'M JUST SICK ABOUT THIS FELLO YOUR HUSBAND IS FALLING WITH MY ELOISE
DAGWOOD CLAIMS YOUR DOG BARKS AT HIM EVERY TIME HE PASSES
IT'S HIS FAULT— ELOISE LOVES PEOPLE
WELL DAGWOOD LOVES ANIMALS TOO
IF DAGWOOD WOULD SMILE AT HER INSTEAD OF BARKING BACK ELOISE WOULD LEARN TO LOVE HIM TOO
I'M SURE HE COULD LEARN TO LOVE ELOISE
WILL YOU TWO STOP ARGUING A ROMANCE FOR ME? REMEMBER, I'M A MARRIED MAN!

Rip Kirby — By Alex Raymond



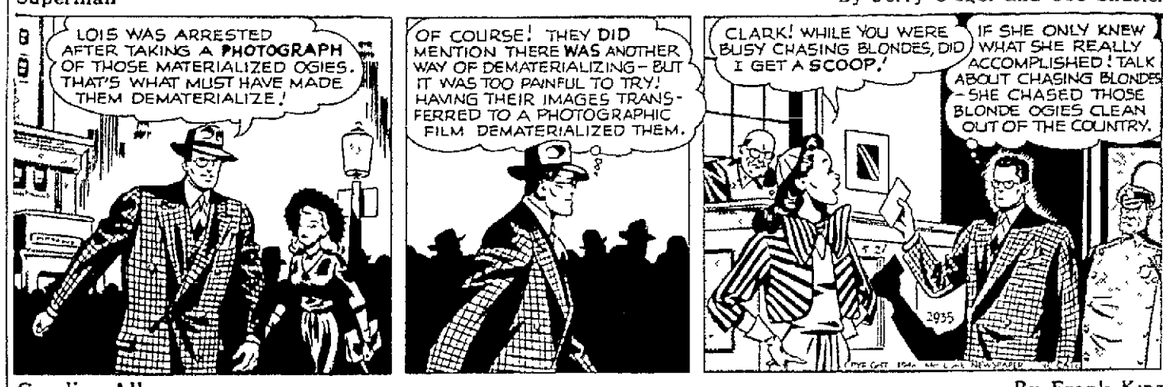
SUCH A DELIGHTFUL LUNCHEON, DEREK...OUR FRIEND MR. KIRBY IS CHARMING. I ASKED HIM TO COME UP BUT HE HAD TO MEET SOMEONE AT THE AIRPORT.
AT THE AIRPORT?
DEREK! WHY DO YOU LOOK LIKE THAT? IS ANYTHING AMISS?
AIRPORT
DOLL!
OH HERE IS MY BABY
WHOA! WHOA! YOU MUST WAIT UNTIL I KNOW LITTLE SHAWN'S PERFECTLY OVAL BUT I'VE A LOT TO TELL YOU BEFORE YOU SEE HIM!
WHAT DO YOU MEAN?

Dick Tracy — By Chester Gould



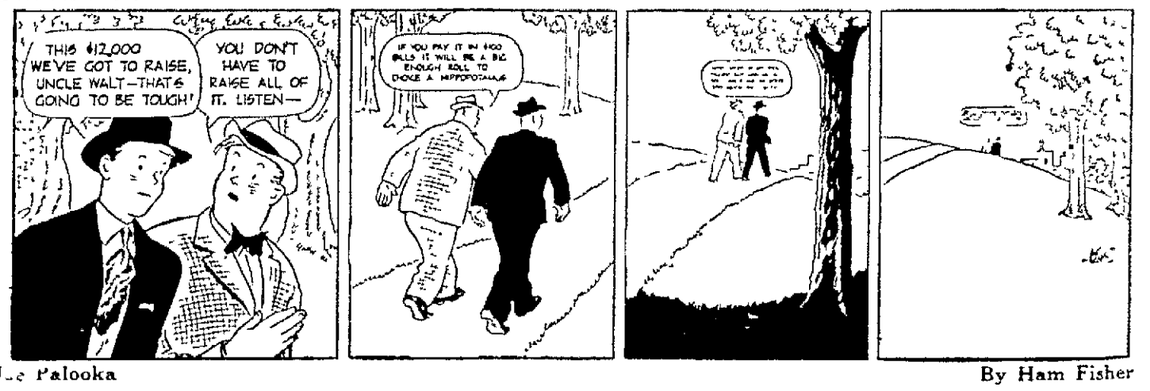
LISTEN, LITTLE MAN, I DON'T WANT TO HURT YOU, BUT HAND BACK THOSE CAB KEYS.
BRIER'S ARM FLIES BACK AGAINST THE WALL. THE STEM OF HIS PIPE SHATTERS
CHESTER GOULD
WITH HIS LEFT HAND HE USES THE GUN BUTT—AND THE NEXT INSTANT JABS THE BROKEN PIPE AGAINST THE BIG WOMAN'S BACK

Superman — By Jerry Siegel and Joe Shuster



LOIS WAS ARRESTED AFTER TAKING A PHOTOGRAPH OF THOSE MATERIALIZED OGIES. THAT'S WHAT MUST HAVE MADE THEM DEMATERIALIZE!
OF COURSE! THEY DID MENTION THERE WAS ANOTHER WAY OF DEMATERIALIZING—BUT IT WAS TOO PAINFUL TO TRY! HAVING THEIR IMAGES TRANSFERRED TO A PHOTOGRAPHIC FILM DEMATERIALIZED THEM.
CLARK! WHILE YOU WERE BUSY CHASING BLONDES, DID I GET A SCOOP!
IF SHE ONLY KNEW WHAT SHE REALLY ACCOMPLISHED! TALK ABOUT CHASING BLONDES—SHE CHASED THOSE BLONDE OGIES CLEAN OUT OF THE COUNTRY.

Gasoline Alley — By Frank King



THIS $12,000 WE'VE GOT TO RAISE, UNCLE WALT—THAT'S GOING TO BE TOUGH!
YOU DON'T HAVE TO RAISE ALL OF IT. LISTEN—
IF YOU PAY IT IN HOG BILLS IT WILL BE A BIG ENOUGH ROLL TO BUCKLE A HIPPOPOTAMUS

Joe Palooka — By Ham Fisher

Terry and the Pirates — By George Wunder

IT FIGURES—HE WOULD HAVE DRINKING MOTLEY BECAUSE SHE'S PLOTTING TO LIFT HIS STATUETTE. HED HAVE HAD US ALL LIQUIDATED!
OF A CERTAINTY, MISS LEE.
THANKS FOR MY HEAD CHARTREUSE—BUT WHY? BRONZ WOULD BE PEEVED IF HE KNEW YOU WEREN'T LEVELING WITH HIM
I AM VERY FOND OF THE OLD ONE, BUT NEVER BEFORE HAVE STRANGERS COME HERE... I AM YOUNG, MY MIRROR TELLS ME I AM ALSO PRETTY....
...TO ONE IN MY PREDICAMENT, THE WASTING OF ELIGIBLE YOUNG MEN WOULD BE MOST FOOLISH, NO?

The Gumps — By Gus Edson
